University Plans Major Public Housing; Will Sell Palmer Square

Princeton University announced this week that it will provide the land for 1,500 units of low and middle-income housing "to be available to the general public."

As a start, the University hopes to break ground soon for 250-300 units on the property it owns in the Township south of Springdale Golf Club, near the Lawrence Court project for married graduate students.

Also, the University announced that it plans to sell off the buildings on Palmer Square, all except the Nassau Inn, which Palmer Square, Inc. will continue to own directly. The University owns 98% of Palmer Square stock.

The undeveloped land around Hulfish and Jackson Streets where the Playhouse Theatre parking lots are is now under study. The University said it plans to bring in a "highly qualified developer who would ultimately build, own and manage" whatever projects are decided on for the land.

No sites for the 1,500 housing units have been determined, although Grant D. Green, the University's Director of Real Estate, spoke of University-owned property in West Windsor between Lake Carnegie and Route One, and in Princeton Township around Broadmead as possible areas.

The announcements came only a week after the Princeton Regional Planning Board's appointment of a special consultant to the board (Charles Agle) on low and middle-income housing, and the mixed development, with housing and commerce of the Central Business District.

"Princeton University is interested in cooperating in every way with the Regional Planning Board" in housing and development of the CBD, stated Dr. Robert F. Goheen, University president.

"We are very, very, pleased that they responded so quickly to the planning board's call for co-operation," stated Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley. "We're looking forward to working with them. Land is the key element, and they have it!"

Mayor Cawley said he and planning board member William Walker and, later, board chairman Hans K. Sander, had been in touch with the University for about a year.

The University has its campus in four communities: both Princetons, West Windsor and Plainsboro. A University-commissioned housing study by James D. Landauer Associates, Inc., of New York, estimated a shortage of 4,500 units of low and middle-income housing in these four municipalities.

The Landauer study stated that 1,500 units of the shortage were attributable to institutional and municipal employers, including boards of education, and 1,500 is the University's target for the next five to seven years, Dr. Goheen said.

Each of the housing groups will contain a mix of housing kinds and income levels. Groups to be constructed in later years, especially in Plainsboro and West Windsor, may include stores and offices.

PHS Plans Unique "Learning Community"

Invitations went out this week to 216 students in grades eight through 11 — 54 students in each grade — asking whether they'd like to join the new Princeton High School Learning Community in the fall.

Deadline for "yes" or "no" is this Friday. Parents, students and citizens have been invited to a meeting scheduled for this Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the high school so they can ask questions and learn more about the Community before deciding whether to join.

After the "no's" have been counted, their places will be filled by volunteers, and so far, there are already about 200 of these, according to high school officials.

Students were chosen through stratfied random selection, a method suggested by Gilbert Mortensen of the high school math faculty. A similar system will be used to select the volunteers; and the high school is inviting eighth graders in St. Paul's School and the West Windsor-Plainsboro school system, as well as those in the Princeton Middle School, to apply.

Procedure Approved. The fact that a student can decline to participate if he's chosen satisfies the Princeton Regional Board of Education. Board members last month voted down the original selection system, under which a chosen student had to go through a reverse application process to get out if he didn't want to be in the program.

The Learning Community will coexist of two parallel groups of about 100 students, each group as much of a cross-section of the PHS community as possible. The teachers who worked out the "Community" hope for a staff of eight volunteer teachers, four to each unit. So far, staffing hasn't been worked out, but Acting Principal Alfred Seitz said this week that he hopes to have the staff decided on by Friday.

What is the Learning Community? To begin with, it's not a "free" school. Learning Community students will be under the same rules as all other PHS students.

"It's contained within a public high school and subject to the regulations of the school and the state," explains Eugene Biringer, associate superintendent, which a "free" school is not.

How is it different from the rest of the high school? Students themselves will have an important say in designing their work. Doris Peskin, one of the "Community's" designers, explains it this way: "You talk about the 3 R's as skills — well, students in the Community will acquire a fourth skill: the ability to make decisions."

The Community will have a Core Program of math, science, English and social studies, plus courses outside the Community (students may take two in the regular PHS projects the students may decide to pursue.

Eugene R. Biringer

This Is Princeton

Take chemistry, for example. Different students may have different reasons for studying chemistry. One may say, "I'm curious about chemistry and I'd like to find out more about it." Another: "I've got this biology project going, but I need to learn more chemistry to finish it." Another: "I need five chemistry credits to get into college."

Through conferences with Robert Arbegast, the chemistry teacher, and perhaps with other teachers in the Community, the student would arrange for the kind of chemistry work he needed. In fact, for a student who wants a standard course for college credit, a PHS course outside the Community might be the best answer.

"But the student who takes chemistry in a partial way as part of something else would be warned that he wouldn't get the five full credits," Mr. Arbegast explains.

Will credits and grades be given? Credits will indeed be given for work done in the Community. The teacher, as the responsibile professional, will decide how many credits a student should get for a given amount of work and time. (This is a knotty question which still has to be settled with state education officials, Mr. Biringer says.)

Also, students will receive grades, and they will be involved in evaluating their own progress. Students have been asking whether Learning Community studies will get them through the College Boards and into college, and the staff answers: "If that is your goal, then you design your program toward those ends."

"But when a student is making his decisions, we'll tell him all that's involved," explains Mr. Arbegast, "we'll try to guide him out of blind alleys, but still allow him to decide for himself. We'll say, 'Hey, don't forget to consider this. . . .' and we'll help him broaden his ideas, if that's needed."

How about academic standards? "They will not in any sense be lower!," Mr. Arbegast emphasizes. "The teacher is the one who knows the standards in his field, and he will say, for example, 'these are the basic concepts of chemistry and these are what you've got to know'."

What about kids who aren't really motivated? Learning Cummunity teachers don't expect all 216 students to bound in on the first day of school, bursting with motivation to direct themselves into all kinds of projects.

"If a student needs a teacher, then it's our goal to be right there to help him make decisions," Mr. Arbegast continues. "If he needs a hand held, then we will. It isn't a sink-or-swim."

Scheduling? Student involvement, of course, is something teachers can do right now, but the normal, rigid scheduling of classes inhibits the process.

There will be schedules in the Community — "we need schedules to have a perspective on where the kids will be," Mr. Arbegast observes— but they will not be rigid, daily schedules.

A student may decide to spend all morning each Monday and Friday on science and Tuesdays and Thursdays on literature. The teaching staff will gather together people who are working on common tasks, and these gatherings will be called "work groups" — or, in essence, classes.

"If you glance through the door of a work group room," comments Ralph Heyman, of the Learning Community staff, "it would look just like an ordinary classroom."

The "work group" might be a seminar on American poets, or a biology class involved with ecology. It might last for several weeks, and then end.

Wide Choice of Study. Independent studies are expected to take up much of the students' time and this will ease scheduling problems. Outside courses will be available, too. Ronald Dale, industrial arts teacher, wants to work part-time with Learning Community students interested in crafts and industrial arts.

"You see, the kids will not be totally isolated," explains Mr. Seitz, "they are simply another group within the school."

Students and parents have also asked about the relationship of the Learning Community to the Experimental School proposed by Frank Soda. The answer: there is

Who's Who

Seven members of the Princeton High staff worked on and developed the Learning Community over a period of a year, during the hours of the Wednesday Program.

One of the seven is Robert Arbegast, chemistry teacher at PHS. His name has been used to identify the proposal partly because the teachers' names have always been listed alphabetically and he's "A" and also because he has appeared at various meetings to answer questions about the Community.

It is not, however, "the Arbegast proposal." The other teachers, who've had equal responsibility, are Ralph Heyman (mathematics); Ronald Berowitz (mathematics); Carol Jacobs (learning disability); Antonia Nielsen (social studies); Doris Peskin (teaching of English as a second language); and Katherine Welch (learning disability).

Major Housing Planned

The University plans to lease its land on a long-term basis to developers who would build, own and manage the housing. But the University, through terms of the land-lease, would retain control not only of design and construction standards, but also of leasing policies. Priority would be given to people living or working in the communities where the housing is to be built.

Mr. Grant explained that the University expects to go the route of Princeton Community Housing, the non-profit middle income housing corporation, applying for state money through the Housing Finance Corporation.

He has three developers in mind, he continued, all of whom have had experience in this kind of middle-income development.

Cutting the Red Tape. Commenting on the red tape delays that have plagued Princeton Community Housing, Mr. Green said, "We hope the University is a stronger institution, and perhaps can make it quicker through the red tape."

Mr. Green said there might even be direct rent subsidies if the University can qualify. He added that he expects to work closely with PCH "if cooperation would make it any easier for them." PCH is working toward middle-income and low income housing in the Township and, it is hoped, in the Borough as well.

The University thinks some of the apartments might be built by a commercial developer without any state aid, although no luxury apartments are planned at present. Mr. Grant would like to see the housing units "fragmented" — that is, here and there around the community — perhaps with high-income commercial apartments mixed in with middle-income units, and if Federal money is forthcoming, low income Federal housing.

He foresees some townhouses sold on a condominium basis, mixed with rented duplex and one-floor apartments. Some might be especially for the elderly.

"Mix" Advocated. "I like a mix," Mr. Green says. "It gives solidarity to this kind of development."

As to income level, Mr. Green quotes the Federal standard of 25% of family income for shelter. He regards $15,000 annual income as tops for the "moderate" category, and $8,000 as tops for the low-income category.

For the 250-odd units planned first, some adjustment will have to be made in the Township's zoning regulations. The area is in an Educational zone where the University can built as it likes for its own students and staff. Hans K. Sander, chairman of the Township Planning Board as well as the Regional Board, suggests that amending the "use" part of the Educational zone ordinance to allow townspeople to live in the units, would be simplest.

Where University - owned land isn't in an Educational zone however, the problem would be quite different, Mr. Sander points out. He thinks the present Township Planning Board would agree to handling the zoning ordinance to make things easy for the University's plans.

Multiple Sales Planned. Turning to the future of Palmer Square, Mr. Green said that sales of the buildings do not have to wait for completion of the Hulfish - Jackson study. Although Palmer Square appears to consist of large stores — and apartment buildings divided somewhat artifically to resemble 18th century structures, it actually does consist of separate buildings which will be sold separately.

So far, there are no plans to eliminate the Palmer Square apartments, Mr. Green said, adding that the University expects to keep "some kind of control," over what the buyers do.

The University will retain ownership of the land, and through land-use agreements, "will insure acceptable standards governing maintenance and appearance," said Dr. Goheen.

The Hulfish study may be finished by mid-July, Mr. Green said, "and then we'll talk seriously to the developers who've been telling us what they'd like to do there. We must have a good idea of our own first, before we talk with a developer."

A parking garage is a definite possibility. Probably it will be underground, with the development, whatever it is, on air rights above it.

Both Dr. Goheen and Mr. Green emphasize that this housing will be available to the public, which does of course, include University staff. But the University will continue to build for its own, and already plans 400 apartments for undergraduates to be built on a site not yet determined.

none. Mr. Soda's proposal would affect only seniors, and it is still in the discussion stage, Mr. Seitz says.

"We'll give the Learning Community a try," the Acting Principal continues, "and if it's successful, we'll go on with it."

He says his office is still working on evaluation procedures for the Community.

Mrs. Peskin contributes a final word:

"I heard one student ask another what was different about the Community from the regular courses, and he answered, "You'll enjoy it more!"

POLICE LAW REPEALED

Amendment Defeated. Laws are for people and if people don't see things the way we do, we still ought to heed their views."

That's what Borough Mayor Robert W Cawley said Tuesday night after Council listened to two hours of public comment and then repealed the controversial police interference law by a 4-2 vote. Councilmen Robert Hendry and Charles Corn forth voted against repeal.

Minutes before, Mr. Hendry offered his amendment deleting what seemed the most obnoxious part of the law, requiring a citizen to help any police officer who made a "lawful and reasonable" request for help. The other part prohibits interference with police.

Councilman Alice Male joined Mr. Hendry and Mr. Cornforth in voting for that amendment. This made a tie, with Councilmen John Strange, Joseph Moore and Martin Lombardo voting "no". Mayor Cawley immediately broke the tie by lining up with the "no" voters to defeat the amendment.

Mr. Hendry said he wanted a local law because the state's law has a much harsher punishment than the $500 fine-three months in jail maximum in the Borough measure. However, another state law came to Council's attention after the repeal was introduced last month. This is a disorderly persons statute with penalties almost the same as the Borough's law.

"The existence of these state laws was a strong contributing factor in my own decision," Mayor Cawley declared. He decried the polarization the ordinance has produced and added, "None of us feel the police have done anything wrong. . . ."

Compared to Facism. A polarized audience told Council the police-interference law was "a conspiracy to stifle the peace movement" and comparable to fascism and "unconstitutionally vague" in its language.

"It should be explicit," said Maitland Jones of the American Civil Liberties Union. "It doesn't define 'lawful and reasonable request" and vague laws breed disrespect for the legal system."

Rick Sobel, University student, asked repeatedly why Council felt the law was necessary and it was some time before he got an answer.

Finally, Mr. Hendry said, "People today are disruptive. There have been violent and disruptive acts on our streets . . . they even tried to burn down the University." And Clarence Di Donato, 27 Harris Road called out from the audience, "You've got the peace movement in mind!"

Mr. Hendry quoted statistics showing sharply increased Princeton crime in 1970 compared to 1939, however. Mrs William Pierce, Kingston Road, said the figures were irrelevant because they didn't take the town's growth into account.

Unfair to Youth. Councilman Joseph Moore charged that the ordinance was directed against youth, both local and University and against blacks. "The mechanics are those of harassment, and this is of primary importance," he declared.

Reminding Council that the ordinance was amended even before it was passed last December Councilman Martin Lombardo suggested it hadn't been researched enough, and he proposed repealing it and then developing another which wouldn't "embarrass the police."

The origin of the ordinance sparked a long discussion. It had been thought that the ordinance was recommended by the Mercer County prosecutor's office, but Councilman Strange said no, it was first suggested by the administrator of the state court system writing in a professional magazine.

"Who asked for it?" demanded Mr. Strange, "the county prosecutor? The Borough Administrator?"

Origin Traced. Mrs. Male clarified the point Borough police saw the magazine article and brought it to Council's attention, she revealed. The county prosecutor said it wasn't his idea, but he did think towns might find it useful.

The ordinance was not related to campus incidents, Mrs. Male stated and "it WAS researched."

Councilman Cornforth asked impatiently "What difference does it make who suggested it? Do we WANT a person to obstruct or interfere with the police?"

Fred Wegel, of Princeton Junction, asked what experience the Borough had had so far with the five months' old ordinance. Jeff Perry, former student at the University, replied that three times since January, people had been threatened with arrest by police when they informed persons who were about to be arrested, of their rights.

Mr. Strange explained that his vote was not "against police or for youth." He said he didn't think the law was necessary because of existing state laws. Besides many people have misunderstood the ordinance, thinking it was directed at them, although this is not so, he said: it is not intended to harass. Finally, he announced the Borough was about to make a thorough review of all its civil ordinances.

"I've been greatly disturbed," commented Mrs. Male, "at the number of people who think this could be a harassment device against youth or blacks or people with long hair. If people think this, we should begin all over again. You should never leave on the books a law people regard as harassment."

From the audience, Mr. Xaver Von Erdberg, 84 Wilson Road, said it was police who were being harassed, in "a concerted campaign in every city in this country," and Mr. Wegel added, "and it comes from Communist Russia."

BAN THE BOTTLE!

Ordinance Introduced. Borough Council introduced an ordinance Tuesday night banning non returnable containers for "malt beverages and soft drinks."

The Borough wants a public discussion together with the Township so the same words won't have to be said twice. Also, the Borough ordinance won't take effect until the Township has one. At the moment, the regular public hearing is scheduled for Wednesday, June 9, because Primary Day falls on the second Tuesday when Council normally meets.

Council introduced an ordinance giving Councilmen $750 a year. They serve without pay at present, and always have. Charles Cornforth voted "no," and Councilman Martin Lombardo abstained. By the same alignment, Council also introduced an ordinance raising the mayor's pay from $500 to $1,000 a year.

Mr. Lombardo explained that as a paid worker for an agency built on volunteers (he is with the National Multiple Sclerosis Foundation) he felt a commitment to volunteer service; however, he pointed out that Councilmen do incur expenses which some may not be able to afford.

"I think Council has a lot of nerve introducing this ordinance when others are in need" declared Mr. Cornforth. "This money must be taken from someone through taxes, which are an involuntary contribution. Personally, I will endorse my paycheck back to the Borough if this ordinance passes."

Councilman Alice Male said she disapproved of the pay idea, but would like to see a public referendum on the subject.

Mayor Robert W. Cawley appointed Mrs. Male Acting Police Commissioner, replacing Robert Hendry who has temporarily resigned to run for the State Assembly.

In traffic matters, Council introduced ordinances banning parking on Edwards Place between 8 and 10 a.m. (a move designed to thwart all-day parkers who work at the University Store), and setting the Edwards speed limit at 15 m.p.h., down from 25.

A petition from 17 residents of Bank Street asked to have the street changed from R O 1 residential office zone to R 4 residential zone to keep the street a residential street. A similar petition asked a regulation of all-day parkers on Bank Street, and a reduced speed limit on the street.

The first request was sent to the Regional Planning Board, the second to the Traffic Safety Committee.

Council rejected the idea of raising Alexander Street's speed from 25 to 35 and agreed to consider a request to ban parking on the south side of Stockton between Lovers Lane and Edgehill.

All ordinance public hearings will be May 9.

Against Penn Central. A rate counsel — a kind of public defender — has been appointed by Governor William T. Cahill to represent the public in the Penn Central rate increase hearings.

The lawyer was scheduled to appear this Wednesday at a hearing involving the State Department of Transportation's Commuter Operating Agency, officials of Penn Central and attorneys who protest the railroad's request for rate increases and cancellation of commutation fares on the shuttle between Princeton and Princeton Junction.

Rate counsels are customarily appointed to speak in the public interest where such utilities as water, telephone, gas or electricity are concerned.

It sure is not!

Mid-May temperatures in 1970 soared above 90 degrees, giving us an early look at summer. This year, with temperatures still averaging below normal, we have frequently had a late look at winter. Much of last weekend, for example, found the thermometer in the 40s.

That usual mid-week rain pattern is again in the forecast, with Thursday expected to be distinctly damp. Clearing weather should arrive before the day is over and maybe — just maybe — we will then have three good days in a row, all adding up to a pleasant weekend.

Two Elderly Women Robbed, Severely Injured

Two elderly Borough women were injured last week in separate incidents after they tried to keep their pocketbooks from purse snatchers.

One remains in Princeton Hospital with extensive injuries; the other was released following treatment. The victims were identified by Chief Peter J. McCrohan as Mrs. Justine N. Taylor, 25 Bank Street ,and Mrs. Ethel Rodweller, 8 Chestnut Street.

"They were pretty well beat en up. It's a sad thing," said Chief McCrohan, after he had described the two incidents.

Mrs. Taylor, who remains in the hospital, sustained a fractured nose, jaw and left abrasions of both knees, legs and face.

Mrs. Rodweller received multiple abrasions of both elbows, the knee, ankle and left hip. She was also x-rayed for a possible fracture of the right elbow. Both women were found lying on the sidewalk by police.

Attacked at Dusk. The first attack occured at 8:21 last Wednesday evening just as it was getting dark. Sgt. John Bellow, Ptl. Gerald Patterson and Ptl. Kerry Klink responded to a call from a neighbor who reported that a woman was being robbed at 25 Bank.

According to their report, Mrs. Taylor was unlocking her front door when a man ran up behind her and grabbed her large, black leather purse, the strap of which was over her arm. She resisted.

Her assailant, thereupon, dragged her off the porch, down a half dozen steps and onto the sidewalk where the strap finally broke. Her pocketbook, which police were unable to find despite an intensive search of the area, contained about $50 in cash, some jewelry, her eyeglasses and personal papers.

Her attacker was described as a slim black male, between 18 and 24, about 5-7, wearing a dark jacket and dark pants. Detective Timothy Huizing in continuing the investigation.

"Almost Identical." The second attack, described by the police as "almost identical," took place the following night at 8:51. According to Ptl. Thomas Michaud and Ptl. David Lewis, who investigated, Mrs. Rodweller was approaching her porch, after having visited a friend on Chestnut Street, when someone grabbed her from behind.

Her purse also had a strap on it. When Mrs. Rodweller resisted she was dragged out into the road. Then the strap broke and her assailant ran off. Her black purse with a red wallet inside containing about $1.50 was not found by police.

Police were met at the scene by two neighbors who had heard Mrs. Rodweller screaming. Police received conflicting descriptions -- both sparse -- of the attacker. "The one we feel is the most accurate," Chief McCrohan said, "was supplied by two teenage girls who were walking on the street at the time.

They described him as white, between five feet seven and nine, wearing light clothing. A second description from a witness looking through a window listed the assailant as a light-skinned negro with short hair.

Chief McCrohan reported that Mrs. Rodweller told police that she thought she heard her attacker calling to someone as he ran. Detective Anthony Ranfone is continuing the investigation of the second attack.

Chief McCrohan believes that "it seems there is a connection between the two incidents. The modus operandi," he said, "is to ride around looking for elderly women alone with purses. He added that police have questioned numerous suspects.

Mrs. Taylor had been honored this month for completing 50 years of service with the College Entrance Examination Board, one of the agencies that founded Educational Testing Service. She is the widow of William V. Taylor.

Mrs. Rodweller is the widow of Elmer Rodweller, for many years a member of the Borough Police Department.

Topics Of The Town

T. Sutphin had been granted permission by Robert Day, executive director of the Commuter Operating Agency, to cross-examine railroad witnesses at this Wednesday's hearing.

Mr. Sutphin declared at last week's hearing that Penn Central should be required to testify as to the reasons why the railroad wanted the rate increase. Also, he said, the public should have the right to question railroad officials and to present witnesses and evidence.

Campaign Pledges Cited. Politics entered the scene this week as Republican Township Committeeman Dean Chace released a letter he has written to Mr. Day reminding him that he ran successfully as a Republican, and remembers vividly "the frequent campaign references by the Governor to the plight of the New Jersey commuter and the urgent need to help him."

Mr. Chace declares in his letter that "imaginative proposals and a long-range plan" for rail transportation are the need, rather than rate increases. He says each commuter from Princeton Junction to New York pays Penn Central $655 a year for the "privilege" of riding in an "uncomfortable, usually dirty and poorly ventilated train, which is often subject to delays of a few minutes to several hours . . ."

"We urgently look to New Jersey State officials," Mr. Chace concludes, "to keep the promise to help the commuter" and to reject rate increase requests until development of an over-all plan.

Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley, also a Republican, said at his press conference this week that he planned to write Governor Cahill and Republican Assemblyman William Schulter, who represents this district.

But it's merely a mayor writing a governor and an assemblyman, he added, not really a politics request. "In this case, I don't think politics will help much," he admitted.

West Windsor, too. Last Wednesday's protesters included West Windsor's deputy mayor and former mayor, Malcolm Roszel, who told the state that if the shuttle to Princeton Junction were abandoned — and critics charge Penn Central with planning its eventual demise — West Windsor would have a monumental traffic jam of cars driving from Princeton.

He said about 80 cars park illegally now at the entrance to the railroad station, blocking fire trucks or ambulances. He asked for continuation of the dinky's commutation rates util the railroad provides parking for the 150 additional cars that he estimates will come from Princeton.

The West Windsor Environmental Protection League protested the cancellation of commutation on the grounds that more automobiles would add to pollution.

MAN FOUND DEAD

On Snowden Lane. Gerard J.P.X. Mitchell, 6 Rollingmead, died of an apparent heart attack Tuesday morning as he was walking to his place of employment, the Institute for Defense Analyses, Prospect Avenue. He was 41.

He was found lying on Snowden Lane between Hamilton Avenue and Nassau Street. A passing motorist called Borough police who in turn notified Township police at 10:10. He was taken to Princeton Hospital by the Princeton First

THE PROJECTIONIST
(USA, 1970, color — Rated GP)
A genuinely delightful comedy — and a field day for film buffs and nostalgia nuts! The man in the booth projects himself right into the movies, and his dream life becomes a series of serials. A kind of 'Walter Mitty at the Movies' with enough old film clips to constitute an instant history of the cinema, from Griffith to Busby Berkeley to Sam Spade — and everything in between. Judith Crist raved, calling it "light, witty, affectionnate and perceptive." So will you.

Truffant's THE WILD CHILD
(France, 1970; French with English substitles)
Directed by ond storring FRANCOIS TRUFFAUT
Only Truffaut could have made this film, and it is unlike any other he has ever made (including his first appearance as an actor). The story is that of a wild boy found in the woods in 1789, and of the efforts by Dr. Jean Itard to educate and civilize him; but the film is really about the evolution of beast into human, and of the pain and promise of human experience. Truffaut (who plays Dr. Itard) is neither showy or sentimental; his humanity and compassion are everpresent. "Wild Child" was on everybody's TEN BEST list last year, with good reason: it is already a classic by one of the master directors of the age. (Rated G)

"Hardesty Park" Is Light Comedy But It Offers Serious Overtones

William McCleery has written a light situation comedy with some serious contemporary overtones, but none of the tones are loud enough to drown out the aims of the show: pleasure; some barbs at business, careers, and the management of the future; and a few - perhaps too few - jokes.

The play is part of a genre we all know and enjoy: problem established, problem revealed with complexities (except to hero, miraculously he is gifted), problem begets problems, problems resolved by Act III. It's the sort of play that community theatre thrives on, and the Community Players have done a good job in this premiere performance.

I am reminded of the opening of a novel I read a few weeks ago, "Revolutionary Road," by Richard Yates. The initial scenes describe a disastrous amateur performance of "The Petrified Forest," characterized by its terrific earnestness and sense of communion with the distant spirits of The Drama. I reminded myself to remember the chapter when I next saw Community Players.

In contrast, how distinguished they are! And how well they do what actors must: behave with the conviction that what they are doing is real, though we all (and they all) know it's a fake, a fraud and great fun.

For Safekeeping. Mr. McCleery's "Hardesty Park" is a place that reflects its creator, a community. Mr. Hardesty creates in order to preserve the sanctity of his American Business. It's rather like a university.

Mr. Hardesty feeds and houses all of the inmates and supervises their lives as though his depended upon it. In a way, it does, and when he perceives (or imagines) a threat to the sanctified domain, Mr. Hardesty demands the obedience of his puppets.

Meanwhile, Mr. McCleery has a clever subplot - revolving around Husband Liberation - going for him; I won't describe it, but I will recommend that you see it if you like unchaotic, somewhat set, but tolerable drama about us. We are in it, in the manipulation, the game-playing, the need for truth, the ramifications of Success, the passion for law and order, the desire to create one's own little world, and in the absolute need for oddballs in Hardesty Park.

Art Farey, as the wall-building Mr. Hardesty, is extremely comfortable, smooth, and pompous as he can be; he projects a warmth, however, that causes us to like him, despite his benevolent dictatorship. Lalor Cadley and Brock Putnam play the young couple Hardesty recruits to his reservation with an eye to the future management of the corporation.

While they are pretty and sophisticated enough, they are hardly young, embracing the Establishment with a guileless opportunism that doesn't distinguish them from Mr. Hardesty enough. And the contrivance they have to live through in the "equality of the sexes" subplot indicates that Mr. Hardesty and Mr. McCleery are equally absurd in their manipulations of people.

Up Tight. Miss Cadley and Mr. Putnam are too earnest and too tense over nothing. They need something to expend their good energies on.

Carlotta Sherwood plays Cherry Carrol, a double role: old friend of both the young heirs to Hardesty Park and former-flame potential rival as well. Her appearance could include more threat, but would this mean a compromise in her value as confidante? Perhaps she should be twu people.

The three characters whom we do not see enough of are Mr. McCleary's most real and responsible creations: Mrs. Hardesty (Pat Echeverria) and The Gilmores (June Cawley and Nat Hartshorne). Since this is a play about both marriage and business, we could see more of Mrs. Hardesty's way of handling her hubby Fletcher.

And Charlie Gilmore seems to have found a sane response to the business jungle: he drinks. Mr. McCleery's best character, he is too brief; and we'd like to know more about his marriage, too: given his imbibing, Mrs. Gilmore seems to respond in a very healthy way; why? The play could tell us more than it does about the people it manipulates; and certainly this production involves the skills and abilities of enough professionals to make it work.

The gifted Sallie Brophy has directed this comedy, and it never sags or slows down. Her work here has helped to make The Community Players the good thing for Princeton that it is.

PLAYWRIGHT HERE

Miss Childress at Youth Center. Alice Childress, author of the two short plays now on stage at the Princeton Youth Center, came to the Center last Friday for the opening night performances. It is possible that she may return this Saturday for the closing night.

Her two plays, "Mojo" and "Wine in the Wilderness," will be presented again at 8:30 this Friday and Saturday as the fourth and final offerings for the current season of the Center's Mainsberry Workshop. Next season's attractions will be announced shortly.

One of the two roles in "Mojo" is being played by Cecelia Hodges, who was formerly associated with Miss Childress in the American Negro Theatre. Miss Hodges, an assistant dean of the college at Princeton University, has been devoting her career to education and to "one-man" theatre recitals in recent years. Her appearance as the character of Rennie in "Mojo" marks a return to acting as a member of a cast.

With Miss Hodges in "Mojo" is William Cook, who has been on the English faculty of Princeton High School for several years. He plays the part of Teddie. Mr. Cook's past theatre experiences have been with the Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope, Pennsylvania and with Theatre '59 at Rider College, the Leavenworth Players and the Fellowship Singers, all of New Jersey.

In "Wine in the Wilderness," the cast consists of Lynette Campbell and Bernadette Yeager, who share the leading role; Terry Steaple, Connie Mack McKibben, David Johnson and Carolyn Adams.

of the theatre's May Movie Festival.

It continues the life story of Antoine, which began with "The 400 Blows." Jean-Pierre Leaud plays Antoine and Delphine Seyrig plays the "older woman" who seduces him.

IOLANTHE IS SET

For Five Performances, Lee H. Bristol, Jr. and George Gallup, Jr., will head the cast of Gilbert & Sullivan's, "Iolanthe," which will be presented by the Gilbert & Sullivan Association on May 21, 22 and 23 at the Princeton Day School.

Dr. Bristol, who appeared last year in "The Mikado," will take the role of the Chancellor, with Mr. Gallup playing Private Willis, the Sentry.

The Fairy Queen will be portrayed by Lois Laverty, with Lucie Formwalt, Sharon Dundore, and John McClain as Iolanthe, Phyllis and Strephon, respectively.

A chorus of 30 voices has been chosen from Westminster Choir College and the community A. Munroe Wade is directing, with Jack M. Rees, of Pennington, as producer. The Musical Director will be David Agler, organist and choirmaster of All Saints Chapel, with Ruth Kay Walker as choreographer.

Five performances will be given, two matinees, on Saturday and Sunday at 2:30, and three evening performances, Friday and Saturday at 8:30 and Sunday at 7:30. Tickets may be obtained at the McCarter Theatre box office.

"HENRY" AT INTIME

Shakespeare on Campus. The first time I saw "Henry IV, Part I" it was a matinee for kids; one of those every-kid-should see-a-little-Shakespeare-because-it-isn't-really-dull productions. I remember loving it, knowing all the beautiful balances in the play, and during the last-act battle between Hotspur and Prince Hal cheering like mad for Prince Hal, the good guy at last, dissolute no more, beating the hell out of Hotspur, that testy hothead who couldn't even flatter a little, that dour and deluded megalomaniac.

Perhaps because I now understand more about the complexities of libertinism, hotheadedness and power (or perhaps because I have grown a little testy myself), I cheered last night for Hotspur.

Perhaps, however, it was because the Hotspur and Falstaff we are given in this production at Theatre Intime—rather than make us wish and hope for Hal's redemption—are so good that Hal becomes irrelevant; when he finally emerges we wish he hadn't.

Daniel Seltzer's Falstaff, in all his pusillanimity, is a curiously honest, direct, and strong man ,an illuminating performance. He never oozes or whines or curries for favor; he is no clown; he is a man who has chosen to live in an "ignoble" way, and he is noble by that choice.

So is Hotspur; though his temperament is spleenish and petulant, he is curiously admirable, a passionate man who knows what he wants. Though he may need to develop the dynamics of his rage, Ernest Norris gives a superb performance.

News Of The Theatres

mirable Hotspur require a dynamic Hal, one who can respond to the challenges of both extremities, libertinism and militancy, while making clear his controls over his own life. He must be able to assume the difficult early dissimulation without compromising his later authenticity as the legitimate hero of his father's reign. He must pull his character out of the bawdy house and sear his enemies with what we knew all along he was hiding, like the sun and always knew how to shine on the right day.

But this Hal—played by Joel Latson—is nothing like the sun. I saw his hiding as weakness, his jokes as solemn and pointless cruelties, and his performance as a dull reading. The prince ought not to be a wishy-washy hypocrite; he is resolute, committed to his role, knowing clearly his choices between rule and misrule, order and disorder, and which is most useful to him.

Last night I cheered for Hotspur because I liked his feelings, and Hal did nothing to deserve my praise. Hotspur was committed—wrongheadedly perhaps—but what he did and who he was mattered to him. Mr. Latson's Hal was a wooden man with a good part. But I saw only the second performance; Mr. Latson will relax, and his prince will grow.

You who admire traditional theatre ought to see this production, which deserves the highest praise as an undertaking, of massive proportions. Staged somewhat statically, the players seemed to learn the limits of the stage by constant explorations, moving and swinging about Richard B. Williams' fine set. And, again, one should see this production for Mr. Seltzer's Falstaff, the Yossarian of his time. Mr. Seltzer also directed, the program states. "Students in this production are members of Creative Arts '216". Quite a project.

Althought this play, produced here without the dramatic reversal of a committed Hal, is not really about valor and the triumph of self, it is about men, character, and war. It is also about self-definition; we love those who achieve it.—Hotspur, Falstaff—but reject those who cannot convince us that it is real.

P.S. Somehow, a year after Cambodia and a week after reaching 45,000 dead, I see this play as an odd choice, and would like to argue about it.

Why was it produced, and why do I question it? Falstaff's speeches about "honor" could justify it, I think. Because I see him here as an essentially wise man, thanks to Mr. Seltzer's solid portrait, as he ought to be seen. I listen carefully to what he says: "What is honor? A word . . . Who hath it? He that died a Wednesday."

BALLET SCHEDULED

"Sleeping Beauty" May 29. The Princeton Ballet Society, which every other years presents its school of ballet in a full-length production at McCarter Theatre, will perform "The Sleeping Beauty" this year with Audree Estey as director. Two performances of the classical three-act ballet by Tschaikovsky, with original choreography by the school's faculty, are scheduled for 11 and 2:30 on Saturday, May 29.

By double-casting the two performances, 36 students will be able to participate in "The Sleeping Beauty," a larger cast than ever before. Chosen for the starring role of Princess Aurora is 18 year-old Natalie Huston, who has studied at the Ballet Society since she was 6.

Dancing with her as the prince will be Daniel Frohman. Both are members of the Princeton Regional Ballet Company which is maintained by the Society.

Dorothy Pettit Alonso, soloist with the Regional Company, will dance the role of The Blue Bird, with Armando Zettina, guest teacher at the Ballet Society, who is a member of the Lar Lubovitch Company.

PRINCETON REFLECTIONS

In Palmer Square. The spring sun is lacing its way through the high old trees on the Nassau Inn lawn, the shops look fresh and inviting — now is the perfect time to spend a day in Palmer Square.

Kalen's Fine Arts, down at the far end near the Playhouse, has another Bouvier de Cachard on view - an abstract reminiscent of Venice in strong orange-red tones. And, on fragments of rich green marble, eloquent paintings of today's youth — a white-shirted boy prone under a deep stand of trees, a child kneedeep in flowers, a young mother reading to her child — all by Marcia.

Tavernwood will show you the amazing quality of wigs today, and the almost unending variety available - carefree shag cuts to long, dreamy tresses. Some threaded with gray — if that's what you want — others platinum, some curled and coifed like a colonial lady, other ribbon-tied above the deep curls. Amusingly displayed on dummies with long, Mondrian necks.

In the Town Shop - embroidered linens on a lucite tray and jewel-like flowers in an art-metal display. We saw bright green notepaper for a happy letter, and stuffed pillows with hand-painted decoration.

For candy lovers, Louise Maas offers, in her typical way, not just the goodies, but delightful containers - trays and lidded cannisters decorated in colorful motifs. For your favorite hard-working woman, a mason jar, filled with green mint peas.

The Silver Shop has a set of four matched candlesticks - tall and imposing, as well as octagon trays with low sides and slots for handles. Browsers will find lovely cut glass here, too, including decanters. We're always intrigued by the antique serving spoons.

The only custom tailor we know who posts his prices is Josef A. Borg, whose neatly lettered sign in the window says "Suits from $150." and "Blazers from $35." There are swatches of silk-linen and mohair-wool to consider, as well as pure wools and summer fabrics. You can have shirts made to order, or buy a clan crest for your blazer, or even a Basque beret.

The Clothes Line has a way with children's clothes that leaves doting grandmothers beside themselves. Short overalls for a boy in blue-and-white vertical stripes have a cross stripe of white ric-rac with an appliqued boy perched on it. The matching dress for little sister poses two little characters on the cross bar. There are furry, soft koala bears in several sizes for small arms to clutch, and protective terrycloth tops for the beach, with an edge of blue on the hood.

Cousins Co. speaks out loud and clear with a hamper of grapes and a magnum of wine. Try the whites and reds from the California vineyards of Mondavi and Mayacamas.

Lillies of the valley at Applegate Floral Shop, potted for a shut-in's windowsill, and African violets in many charming varieties are springlike in flavor. The shop is filled with cut flowers, spikey ornaments in pots, and ivies.

Milady, where furs are the thing, also has unusual jade objects d'art - such as white jade rabbits and green jade frogs - from the estate of a collector.

Embroidered pictures and samplers, for those who love crewel, are on display at Clayton's Yarn Shop — we had the thought that some of them would be equally lovely worked in silk floss. For sunny times at the beach, the yarn shop has crocheted shawl kits and needlepoint. To carry them — see the gayly-printed knitting bags.

Elements of interior design —from rug swatches to wallpaper to needlepoint and pillows are at Princeton Decorating. We saw a really unusual tennis racquet cover for a needlewoman to work, with the theme of three tulips and elegantly scrawled initials.

The handwrought shallow dishes of silver or copper in Cornelia Weller's window are too beautiful to litter with burned cigarets. All are round and shallow, some with a squared outer edge.

The Nassau Shoe Tree is giving us a lot of white this spring, from a marvelous boot with embroidered eyelet look to little nothing flat sandals. Among other offerings there's an Italian shoe with embroidered cutwork over the toe and a Jacques Levine sandal with long, long black ribbons to wind up to the knee and wear with your sexiest slit skirt.

Clayton's has tucked two dolls under embroidered sheets to clue you into its bed linen sale. For the bride, a good idea. Also amusing potholders - shaped like a strawberry, or half-folded into ducks and hens. The mitts have a rooster print. Clayton's has half-size dresses - we liked a garden print of rose, white and blue. In lingeries, think short — a green-dominated print in silky nylon comes as a gown and matching short robe, and a cottony blue nightie has wide lace at the Mao collar and down the front.

with its variety — from amber necklaces to pewter serving pieces. There's a silver bracelet with intaglio designs of exotic birds on each of the four panels, a mother of pearl box with irregular, irridescent blocks, a clock with wooden birds to mark the hours, and for the young, linked fish on long pendants.

Princeton Book Shop is touting David Lahenbal's Volume Five (1959-63), and new poems by Rod McKuen. Realistically, it carries the paperback "How to Write a Job Resume," and the Whole Earth Catalogue. For those who look forward to shorter work weeks, "4 Days-40 Hours" will be intriguing. Also on display, in a warmness of Princeton's wide gamut of interests: American Negro Poetry, Falk's "This Endangered Planet," "A Thousand Dreams Interpreted," Hendricks' "Explained" and Fussell's "Samuel Johnson." Even a book on handwriting, "Your Script Is Showing," and James Allen's "Learn to Play Tennis."

Princeton Music Center next door is still strong on Panasonic — showing the new FM-AM stereo cassette and the Panasonic clock TV set. Lots of records and albums.

Brophy's is very boots and saddle — marking its 75th year with a display of shoes worn by the presidents of the United States — a fairly dapper crew. And at Skirm's Smoke Shop, you'll see in the window a great display of pipes collected by the owner.

PLAN YOUR PLANTING

With Obal. Obal Garden Center on lower Alexander Road has a hub filled rock garden in full bloom. It's a good place to see before you order spring bulbs. The garden is filled with whites and lavenders, spiced with touches of yellows and occasional reds. In between are low evergreens, beautiful primroses and violas and the rosette-like hens and chicks.

Obal has a great many flower plants ready for your garden — from tall, yellow Boston daisies, to flats of portulaca. We also found here espaliered plants — blue Pfitzer juniper and willowleaf holly.

For your shady spots, Obal offers pachysandra in flats of 100 ($8.50) and the various shade-loving flowers.

In low, green pots you'll find Oregon hollygrape, with its curious leaf and yellow flower-spikes, and Japanese Andromeda thick with small, pod-shaped white flowers.

Among the rhododendrons, Wissahickson, with its cerise buds ready to burst, and English Roseum, a lavender pink.

For interesting plantings — thick clumps of Scotch Broom with wisps of almost floating yellow blooms; blue fescue; dwarf Chinese holly and Mugho pines, a fascinating little plant with upright, candle-like tips.

The roses at Obal Garden Center are heavy on the hybrid teas. The names are intriguing: John Kennedy (a white); Mister Lincoln (a red); and Chicago Peace (orange-red). There's Garden Party, a rose-tipped white; and Tiffany, a fragrant pink deepening into gold, and the famous yellow Peace.

Among the grandiflora, Queen Elizabeth — a ruffled pink rose; and the Floribunda Goldilocks, a sunny yellow. And among the climbers, the always reliable, always beautiful Blaze, a scarlet.

Obal offers petunias, marigolds, carpet of snow, alyssum, pansies, violas, snapdragons, dwarf stock - and so many more, that you may get carried away.

For the kitchen garden - chives, parsley, brussels sprouts, lettuces, tomatoes, peppers. And of course, mulches, peat, fertilizers, pots for patios, and good advice.

TOWN TOPICS goes into every home and place of business in Princeton. By their own figures, no other newspaper does half as well.

WOMEN IN LOVE has been held over at the Playhouse this week. Glenda Jackson won an Academy Award for her role.

Other principals will be Joyce Shahl as the Carabosse, the wicked fairy who casts her evil spell to put the princess to sleep for a hundred years; Christina Klotz as the Lilac Fairy, the good fairy who counteracts the evil spell for a "lived happily ever after" ending; Barbara Wagner and Linda Edwards as the Lilac Fairy's attendants; and Cathy Brewener, Virginia Hepburn, Jill Lerner, Robin Tantum, Sharin Terry and Diana Zeydel as the Fairy Godmothers. Choreography is being done by Lila Brunner, ballet mistress of the regional company. Joan Lucas, Judith Leviton, Therese Donohue and Ruth Lungridge. Mrs. Estey is producer and director, and Mrs. Donohue is assisting as production coordinator.

Mrs. Estey points out that the presentation of a major work such as "The Sleeping Beauty," a Ballet Society tradition which started more than 20 years ago, would not be possible without the cooperation of the many parents who help with costumes, programs, ticket selling, backstage supervision and driving to rehearsals since no regular class time is ever taken for rehearsals.

Mrs. Steven Terry and Mrs. Karl D. Pettit, Jr. are in charge of costumes. Mrs. Lee Neuwirth is program editor with Mrs. Maurice F. Warner and Mrs. Harry J. Newman in charge of advertising sales.

Mrs. John Forrer is supervising a ticket selling contest among students. Mrs. J. Francis Pariso is handling publicity, and William J. Lucas, advertising. Scenery is being designed by Stephen Hendrickson of New York City. Staging, scenery and lighting will be executed by the staff of McCarter Theatre.

Tickets may be ordered from students or from the McCarter box office which is open from 10 to 6 Monday through Friday. Telephone reservations are accepted, 921-8700. Orchestra seats are $3 and $2.50; balcony $3, $2.50 and $2.

"ALICE" IS "X"

Carroll, but Not for Children. Maybe it's just a come-on, but they're saying at McCarter that the forthcoming production of Lewis Carroll's "Alice in Wonderland" is strictly not for children, so get a baby-sitter and join the fun.

"Alice," in Andre Gregory's Manhattan Project Company version, will play McCarter twice — next Tuesday and Wednesday, both at 8:30 p.m.

The audience will be limited to 300 at each performance and will be seated on the stage surrounding the actors. Bring cushions, says McCarter.

This "Alice" recently concluded a seven-month engagement at the Extension Theatre in New York. This summer the company will tour Europe.

PRINCE

The Owl and the Pussycat (now playing) Barbara Streisand comes across like a whirlwind in her first non-singing role. George Segal, as a would-be writer, not only holds his own against Miss Streisand but at the same time makes his role appealing.

On the stage, this was a two-character comedy by Bill Manhoff about the romance be-

ENGAGEMENTS

Godet-Wenzel. Miss Dominique Godet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Godet of Paris and St. Germain, France, to John T. Wenzel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orrin J. Wenzel of 157 Shady Brook Lane. The wedding will take place on June 19, in St. Germain, Normandy.

Miss Godet, a graduate of the University of Potiers, received a master's degree in sociology from the Sorbonne and was a Fulbright Exchange Scholar at the University of Chicago last year. She is now a doctoral candidate at the University of Paris at Nanterre. Mr. Wenzel attended Princeton High School and was graduated in 1967 from Stanford University. He received his master's degree from the University of Chicago where he is now a candidate for a doctorate in physical chemistry. He taught at Trenton Central High School in 1968 and will be working this summer in Denmark for the Danish Atomic Energy Commission.

Hanley-Dean. Miss Peggie June Hanley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hanley of Pelham Street, to Stephen P. Dean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dean of Clarksville Road, Princeton Junction. No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Hanley was graduated from Princeton High School last June and is employed by a local real estate firm. Mr. Dean, a graduate of Princeton High School in 1969, is serving the United States Army.

WEDDINGS

Thomas-Perry. Miss Ruthmarie Perry, daughter of Mrs. Paul K. Perry of 67 Marion Road, East, to Roger Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Thomas of West Orange, April 24: in New York City.

The bride, a graduate of Princeton High School and Goucher College, is an administrative assistant at Manufacturers Hanover Trust Company. Mr. Thomas, an alumnus of Phillips Academy at Andover, attended Cornell University and was graduated from Upsala College. He is an assistant treasurer of Morgan Guaranty Trust Company.

Szalczyk - Cermele. Miss Mary M. Cermele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark A. Cermele of Lawrenceville, to Stephen J. Szalczyk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Szalczyk of Trenton, May 8: St. Ann's Roman Catholic Church.

The bride was graduated from St. Francis School of Nursing and is a pediatric nurse at St. Francis Hospital. Mr. Szalczyk, a graduate of Alliance College, is affiliated with Princeton University Press. The couple will live in Lawrence Township.

Woodbridge-Moore. Miss Karen L. Moore, daughter of Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. George W. Moore of Rogers, Ark., to Richard C. Woodbridge, son of Dr. and Mrs. Richard G. Woodbridge III of North Road, April 3: First Baptist Church, Washington, D.C.

The bride, a graduate of the University of Arkansas, is an assistant press legislative aide in the office of Congressman James Collins of Texas. Mr. Woodbridge is an alumnus of the Lawrenceville School and Princeton University, class of 1965, and holds a law degree from George Washington University. He is assistant patent examiner in the United States Patent Office, South Arlington, Va. The couple will live in South Arlington.

Rose-Finnell. Mrs. Anne T. Finnell of Mansgrove Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Tomlinson of 57 Allison Road, to Edward C. Rose Jr., son of Major General (Ret.) Edward C. Rose of Sea Girt and the late Mrs. Rose. May 8: at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Rose is a graduate of the Westover School, Middlebury, Conn. Her husband, a graduate of Lawrenceville School and Princeton University, class of 1942, is a vice-president of the New York Life Insurance Company. The couple's previous marriages ended in divorce.

tween a black prostitute who wants to be an actress and a white bookstore clerk who wants to be a writer. On the screen only the basic situation is retained.

Barbara Streisand as "Doris" the hooker who says she did a TV commercial once speaks most of her opinions (of which she has many) at the top of her voice. She has the vocabulary of a stevedore and an awe-inspiring lack of inhibition. The lady is a kook. Buck Henry wrote the screen play.

PLAYHOUSE

Women in Love (now playing). Glenda Jackson has received an Academy Award for her role as Godrun, the restless schoolteacher, in this D. H. Lawrence story.

Alan Bates and Oliver Reed, two major British actors, bring the characters of Rupert (the school inspector) and Gerald (the mine owner's son) to life with all the ambiguities of their friendship put across eloquently.

Jennie Linden plays the role of Godrun's sister. The two pairs of love affairs are effectively contrasted with all of the subtleties of the inter-relationships sustained. If some of the things seem dated and naive, times have changed since Lawrence's day.

THE GARDEN

Truffaut's "The Wild Child," which played to unanimous acclaim last fall at the New York Film Festival, will be shown starting this Saturday at the Garden Theatre as part of the Garden Festival.

It will play through next Tuesday, with performances at 7 and 9 p.m. and matinees Saturday and Sunday at 2.

Currently at the Garden is "The Projectionist," which will be shown through this Friday. Again performances are at 7 and 9 p.m.

"The Wild Child," is based on fact: the discovery in 1798 of a wild boy who had survived in the woods for 12 years without human contact. He is taken into the home of Dr. Jean Itard (played by Truffaut himself), who believes he can transform the boy into a useful member of society. The theme is handled in a simple manner without sentimentality or exaggeration.

"The Projectionist" is a kind of Walter Mitty film about a movie house projectionist whose real and dream life come straight from the movies. The director has cut film clips into the action, turning the film into a kind of instant history of the movies, from D. W. Griffith to Bogart.

SANSUI 4000 THE NEW

Here is the sensational new Widedial Wonder — the Sansui 4000 AM FM Stereo Receiver with 160 Wats (IHF) of power.

The Sansui 4000 is complete in every detail . . . using advanced IC and FET circuitry. The 4000 offers an extremely wide 20 to 30,000 HZ power bandwidth, a distortion factor that never exceeds a low 0.8% and an FM sensitivity figure of 1.8UV (IHF). Among the many features that set it apart from the ordinary are: widedial linear tuning for pin-point station selection, an ability to handle up to three sets of speaker systems at the same time, a new type of noise canceler, two Phono inputs, a unique dial pointer that changes colors to indicate at a glance whether AM or FM broadcast is being received, short-free output terminals . . . and much, much more.

Hospital Procedure Explained.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Ordinarily the circumstances of an individual death in a hospital are not appropriate matters for public discussion. However, recently there have been two highly critical letters in TOWN TOPICS concerning a recent death in Princeton Hospital and because of the obvious lack of informatioo on the part of the writers of those letters, our inclination now is to publicize the facts of the matter. Out of respect for the privacy of the individuals concerned, we will avoid discussion of clinical details and comment only on other relevant aspects of the situation.

On Monday, March 15, the Princeton Hospital Staff was informed by telephooe and telegram that the U. S. Public Health Service had issued a warning concerning a number of lots of commercially prepared Abbott intravenous fluids that were in general use throughout the country. The warning was merely an alert, and did not specifically call for the discontinuation of the use of these fluids, which were not recalled by the Food and Drug Administration until ten days later.

Nevertheless, on the same day that the warning was received, the Princeton Hospital decided to discontinue the suspected fluids and to replace them with solutions from aoother source. This was several days before the fluids were discontinued in many of the country's major university hospitals. Far from being criticized, we believe that the Princeton Hospital should be commeoded for its prompt recognition and effective haodling of the problem.

The Princeton Hospital was selected by the United States Public Health Service several years ago as one of eight hospitals in the nation to receive a research graot and to participate in an ongoing study of infectious disease. The hospital was selected for this study because of the quality of its diagoostic laboratory and the cooperation of hospital personnel. Through this study and through the work of the hospital's Infections Committee, an unusually comprehensive surveillance program for infections is maintained.

It is not unusual for there to be a difference between the death certificate and the pathologist's final report. The death certificate is usually writteo on the day of a patient's demise, and it lists the physician's diagnoses. The autopsy report is written by the pathologist, and it includes additional information based on his detailed examinations, including microscopic and bacteriologic studies completed at a later date and therefore not available to the attending physician at the time of death.

We hope that this information may prove enlightening and at the same time reassuring to the community. We believe that by any standard, the Princeton Hospital ranks high among the community hospitals of the nation; its reputation for providing quality medical care is well-known and it remains a source of pride to those citizens who know it best.

Returnable Bottles Favored.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

It is significant that in a recent ABC television special, over 70% of those polled in a national survey said that they would like to buy returnable bottles if they were available. It is also interesting to note that beverages in returnable bottles run from 25 to 40% cheaper per fluid ounce than they do in non-returnables, for the consumer.

Also, a returnable bottle with a realistic deposit on it is a no-loss, no-gain arrangement for the retailer, the bottler and the consumer.

Perhaps the most important factor in this Environmeotal Age, is that in the past 30 years the United States alone has used more of the fuel and mineral riches of earth — our only source — than all of mankind in all of previous history.

These were some of the considerations that led the Conservation Commission to recommend that the Township pass an ordinance banning the sale of certain non-returnable beverage containers in the Princeton area.

The Coalition, after careful study, proposed consideration of such an ordinance to the Conservation Commission and should now like to urge that Township Committee and Borough Council and mayors proceed with it as soon as possible.

Henderson Letter Attacked.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

In the light of the mistakes, inaccuraces, innuendoes, and false accusations contained Mr. John T. Henderson Jr.'s letter (TOWN TOPICS, April 29, 1971), a brief reply will be difficult but, as Secretary (NOT Chairman as Mr. Henderson's letter states) of the Hopewell Township Planning Board, I will do my best.

For several years the dedicated and hard-working members of the Planning Board have felt that civic-minded, progressive landowners in the Township would be happy to dedicate strips of land along Township roads of sub-standard width for future road widening when such lands were subdivided.

These strips are of no essential value to the landowner if undedicated (and represent a tax saving if dedicated) and would mean a considerable saving in tax dollars to all the citizens since costly land condemnation and purchase at the time of road widening would be eliminated.

Such dedications were requestion and granted on all pertinent subdivisions even before this provisioo was made a part of the current Land Subdivision Ordinance (Article 6 pp 1 (i)) adopted in July 1969 and they continue to be requested at the present time.

While the original request was for a 33' (NOT 35' as Mr. Heoderson's letter stated) dedication from the center-line along the frontage of his land on Harbourton-Mt. Airy Road, this request was changed by letter August 31, 1970 to 25.

When the Princeton Township case, to which Mr. Henderson refers, was finally adjudicated, the case was withdrawn by mutual consent without prejudice to either party and Mr. Henderson's subdivision was approved without road dedication.

Contrary to the statements in Mr. Henderson's letter, no Hopewell Township official was ever subpoenaed to appear on March 5th or at any other time (actually neither Mr. Henderson's attorney nor the Township attorney ever set foot in a courtroom in connection with this case) nor has the Hopewell Township Planning Board required road dedication since the final Princeton Township decision.

While Mr. Henderson's slurs directed against the members of the Planning Board and the Township attorney are bad enough, his defamatory remarks about the Township Committeemen, who give their best efforts to serve the citizens of the Township, are irresponsible and reprehensible.

Confusing the Commuter.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Who's in charge here?

Marty Wayne reported on Traveler's Timetable over WNYC that Amtrak has published its timetable for passenger service on Penn Central, and the N. J. State Department of Transportation has published its timetable for commuter service for Princeton and Princeton Junction on Penn Central.

The two timetables don't match.

RUTH KEISER
(Mrs. A. L. Keiser, Jr.)
244 Edgerstoune Road

Editor's Note: Who's to say who's in charge? The authorized Penn Central timetable lists two early morning trains from Princeton Junction to New York which Amtrak does not, and likewise offers two more (departing the Junction at 4:12 and 5:03 p.m.) which Amtrak considers a mirage. Amtrak is not, however, shut out: whereas Penn Central tells the stranded commuter that there is no train that will take him from New York to the Junction between 7 and 11 p.m., Amtrak lists one at 9. Without batting an eye, Penn Central runs it.

PHS Band Praised.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

You missed it. Closing after a two night stand and receiving standing ovations, a band reminiscent of Glenn Miller and Count Basie played to less than packed audiences at Princeton High School.

Every section of the band played faultlessly and such numbers as "Riffin Blues" and "Tuxedo Junction" were of the finest recording quality.

Princeton High School's Symphonetta Band under the able direction of Jack Horner is to be highly commended.

A Letter from Vietnam.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Regarding an article on Princeton High School Lacrosse in your paper on March 25. I have a few words to say.

Lacrosse at Princeton High School has dropped quite a bit since I played there. However, I don't believe that it is the players but the athletic department at Princeton High School.

One prime example of the attitude of the athletic department was about two years ago. Steve Jacobsen, coach at Fairlawn High School (then State champs in lacrosse) came to the athletic director at PHS and asked if the lacrosse program needed any help. The athletic department stated that they were more than happy with their program, (a note to the fact at this particular time that PHS was 0-32).

The next year I saw Mr Jacobson again, as he plays lacrosse for New Jersey and I played for Bowie (Maryland). He told me that if he had had the PHS lacrosse team from the beginning of the season, he could have won the New Jersey championship without a problem. The boys at PHS "ran circles around my players, but they didn't have the right coaching." Mr Jacobsen is now coach at Lafayette College.

"PHS is outclassed the moment is steps on the field." This is again due to the lack of interest on the coaching staff at PHS. I visited PHS two years ago and questioned several players on their workout. It was revealed that if it rained or the ground was muddy, that practice was cancelled.

When Robert Arbegast was coach we (then at PHS '62-'66) might have been "outclassed the moment we stepped onto the field" but none of the players knew anything about it. Also if you will look in the record book, you can see that PHS did win games from the North Jersey powers and prep schools.

A question to the people of Princeton: Why did you, the people of Princeton, let lacrosse slip so far downhill after it had such a great start?

Also remember that the town makes the school officials act and now is the time to act.

A Request for Help.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The United Farm Workers with the cooperation of consumers from all over the United States are engaged in fruitful negotiations with the lettuce growers of California. The weapon of the national boycott used with resounding success in the vineyards was also of assistance in bringing about some settlements in lettuce.

In spite of the progress that has been made to date, there is an enormous job ahead. Farm workers harvesting many crops scattered through many states need to create unions that will bring to them the benefits enjoyed by most American workers.

In New Jersey various organizations are tackling the problem, but there is an active part to be played by more sympathizers joining forces as friends of the farm worker to assist them in lobbying, financing and generally keeping local communities informed of the Chavez movement and problems arising in the migrant worker area here in New Jersey. For the time being, local communities have available the services of half a dozen experienced members of the Chavez staff from Delano, Calif., willing to help however they can.

They are crowded into a hopelessly inadequate two bedroom apartment in Jersey City. Their most pressing need is for some roomier free housing in the Princeton area for the summer months only. I am appealing to the community to shelter them, hoping that perhaps there would be someone planning to be away for the summer who could conveniently donate their house.

These are true public servants who have dedicated years of their life assuming responsibility for their brother man. I hope that their great sacrifice may touch the conscience and he matched by the generosity of some member of the local community. If you can help either with the immediate problem of housing or the longer term one of creating a state wide organization, please telephone me at 921-3713.

Book Sale a Success.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

On behalf of the Bryn Mawr Club of Princeton we would like to express our gratitude to the people of the Princeton area who have, through their interest and support, contributed so greatly to making the 40th Bryn Mawr Book Sale an outstanding success.

Next year's benefit funds will be used to give scholarship aid to five Bryn Mawr College students from the area.

This year we would like to express our very special thanks to the friends of Alumnae and of the Book Sale who kindly sorted and priced books, and to members of the Interact Club of Princeton who also helped us.

We are grateful to the Princeton Elementary Schools, Stuart Day School and PDS, the Princeton Public Library, Firestone Library and others for distributing book marks, and to those who displayed our posters.

Our thanks too to the Borough Hall Officials for permitting use of the Gym for this community event, to the Borough Police, to Princeton University, the A & P, Bohren's Moving and Storage, and to all who helped the Book Sale in many ways.

FIGHT DRAWS $45 FINE

Following Nassau St. Rockus. Sam R. Paken, 23, of Trenton, was fined $45 last week by Judge Theodore T. Tams, Jr. for his role in the street melee that erupted on the University campus April 13 and spread across Nassau Street.

Paken was charged by Detective Timothy Huizing with punching Tim Kornegay in the face in front of Nassau Hall. He pleaded guilty.

An assault charge against Daniel McComas, 21, of Belle Mead, stemming from the same incident, was dismissed. McComas had been charged by Det. Huizing with striking Gary Lee over the right eye with a bottle.

Judge Tams heard the case two weeks ago and deferred decision. At the time, McComas testified that in throwing bottles he had prevented Paken from being injured. He said that Paken was being chased by another youth armed with a knife, after the two had become involved in a fight stemming from an alleged $5 debt owned to Paken's fiancee.

At the hearing, Borough prosecutor Russell Annich Jr. argued that McComas was not defending himself or his property and that he was close to the victim. Judge Tams ruled, however, that McComas' action had prevented possible injury to Paken.

Still to be heard are the cases of Anthony Boone, 18, 116 Leigh Avenue, and George Kornegay, 18, 27½ Leigh Boone has been charged with atrocious assault, an indictable offense, and malicious damage after he allegedly hurled a rock through the window of the A & S Luncheonette, 86 Nassau.

George Kornegay was the first to be charged under the new police interference ordinance. He allegedly interfered with Borough patrolmen who had come to question his brother following the street fight.

Paul Parker, 21, 223 Princeton Inn College, had his charge of assault in the Princeton University Student Center dismissed, as did Frederick Kurz, 1901 Hall, Princeton University. Kurz was charged with turning in a false fire alarm.

Velma Squire, 21, Kensington Arms Apartments, East Windsor, waived a preliminary hearing and her case was sent to a grand jury. She has been charged with atrocious assault and battery.

LEGION PARADE SET

For May 28. Princeton Post 76, American Legion, will conduct its annual Memorial Day Parade on Friday, May 28, with "step off" at 7 p.m. This marks the second year that the Post has abandoned the traditional parade on the holiday. Post Commander Robert Kling stated, "Arangements for band partcipation as well as organization representation has been facilitated by scheduling the parade ahead of the holiday. In addition, the evening hour has proven to be desirable timing."

PARADE PLANNERS: Frank A. Tylus (left) and D. Don Richards are making arrangements for the Annual Memorial Day parade which Princeton Post 76, American Legion, will stage on Friday, May 28.

Parade Co-Chairmen D. Don Richards and F. A. Tylus have arranged for four bands: the 730th Air Force Band from McGuire Air Force Base, the Crusaders Drum & Bugle Corps from Manville, the Colonial Minutemen from New Brunswick, and the Musicians Local A.F. of M. No. 62 from Trenton. Because of the long holiday weekend, it has been impossible to arrange for high school bands from this area to participate.

In paying tribute to America's war dead of all wars, Post 76 will again honor Princeton area servicemen who lost their lives in the Vietnam Conflict. Last year, seven families of area servicemen were presented the American Legion Medal of Appreciation. This year the posthumous award will be presented in absentia to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Warner whose son Stephen, after gaining acclaim as a soldier-journalist, was killed in an ambush in Khe Sanh.

American Legion Posts in Mercer County including Princeton Post 218 will be in the line of march along with veterans of others organizations. A brief ceremony with the traditional placing of a wreath will take place at the Battle Monument in front of Borough Hall.

CEMETERY TOUR SET

For May 30. An hour long walk through the older and historic section of Princeton Cemetery is scheduled for 4 p.m. on Sunday, May 30. Mr. and Mrs. William K. Evans, the tour conductors, will meet visitors at the Greenview Avenue entrance. Rain date is June 6.

The earliest record concerning the Princeton Cemetery is dated 1757, marking the purchase by the College of the ground on which the Presidents' Plot is located. About 1783 the cemetery was surveyed by the College to the First Presbyterian Church which has operated it since that time. The earliest, still legible are dated 1760 and 1764.

Of particular interest is the Presidents' Plot. Here are buried all but four of the deceased presidents of the University. Inscribed memorial stones mark their graves, including those of Aaron Burr Sr.; John Witherspoon, signer of the Declaration of Independence; Jonathan Edwards the widely known theologian; James McCosh, and John Grier Hibben.

Not far off is the grave of Grover Cleveland, 22nd and 24th President of the United States, who lived in Princeton from 1897 until his death in 1908. Each year, on his birth day, a wreath from the White House is placed at the grave.

Elsewhere in the older part of the cemetery are memorials to Paul Tulane, benefactor of Tulane University; Henry Van Dyke, preacher and author; Dean Andrew F. West, close friend of Grover Cleveland, and General Joseph Karge, the Polish patrint who fought in the Civil War and later became the first professor of modern languages at the College. Polish American societies have for many years decorated his grave on Memorial Day with Polish and American flags.

Aid and Rescue Squad ambulance where he was pronounced dead on arrival. An autopsy was scheduled for Wednesday to determine the exact cause of death. Pfl. David Cromwell investigated.

For the past 12 years, Mr. Mitchell had been employed at the communication research division at IDA as its senior research computer specialist. The publisher of numerous papers in mathematics and computer science, he was a member of the American Mathematical Society, the Association for Computing Machinery and the Institute for Electrical and Electronic Engineers.

After receiving two degrees from Stevens Institute of Technology, he served four years in the U.S. Navy. He later worked in the National Security Agency in Washington, D.C.

Mr. Mitchell leaves no close relatives. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

NO INTERVIEWS YET

For PHS Principal. Nobody within the Princeton public school system has yet applied formally for the principal's job at Princeton High School, but applications are welcome, said Superintendent Philip E. McPherson in a progress report this week.

Because time is short, the superintendent and the school board will have the prime responsibility for choosing a new principal, Dr. McPherson explained. The superintendent said he hoped candidates would have a chance to talk informally with PHS students and staff, but he warned that there will not be any formal interviewing and recommendations by students, faculty or administrative committees.

So far, no one has been interviewed, he said, although there have been phone calls and letters to candidates. He and the board hope for some kind of decision by the end of May, the superintendent said.

Meanwhile, a flurry of dissent has arisen from teachers who point out that, under the PREA teachers' contract, any vacancies in the school system must be advertised to the staff.

The resignation of Miss Florence Burke as principal happened quickly, and Dr. McPherson has acknowledged that the "advertisement" to teachers that the post was vacant, wasn't done until May 3, six days after Miss Burke's resignation.

Alfred Seitz was named "Acting Principal", three days after Miss Burke's resignation. There seems to be some question as to whether the naming of an "acting" official comes under the meaning of the contract. The school board has not yet formally appointed an "acting principal" but is scheduled to do so on May 25, presumably naming Mr. Seitz.

DRIVER FALLS ASLEEP

His Tree on Quaker Road. A Trenton driver was treated at Princeton Hospital when he complained of chest pains after he fell asleep and his car went off the road and struck a tree on Quaker Road.

James Foster, 23, told police that he had stopped at the stop sign at Quaker and Mercer Road and proceeded ahead some 50 feet when he went off the road. The mishap took place at 5:25 Sunday morning. There were no charges.

Jerome Gorski, 51, Cold Soil Road, Lawrenceville, was treated for a whiplash and fitted with a cervical brace at Princeton Hospital last week, after his car was bumped from behind on Witherspoon Street.

Pfl. David Alston, the investigating officer for Borough police, reported that a car operated by Carl Nordenfalk, 63, of Sweden, bumped the Gorski car as both were waiting for a light to change. Mr. Nordenfalk is an employee of the Institute for Defense Analyses.

There was no damage to either car. So far, Pfl. Alston has issued no charges.

Letters to Cost 8 Cents

Franklin D. Roosevelt, whose picture has been on most six-cent stamps issued in recent years, will give way Sunday to Dwight D. Eisenhower. The latter's picture will be on a majority of the eight-cent stamps which will be required next week to mail a letter weighing an ounce or less.

Airmail will increase one cent (to 11), while the "penny postal" of days long gone by will now cost six cents instead of five. Airmail post cards may be sent for nine cents. The foregoing rates apply to all 50 states, Canada and Mexico.

Special delivery, first-class up to two pounds, will now cost 60 cents rather than 45. Rates for second, third and certain fourth class mail will also move higher — in some cases by as much as 33%.

BANDS AND BRASS

To Play before Hospital Fete. Preparations are under way for the festivities on Friday night, June 11, preceding the Princeton Hospital Fete. The co-chairman for Friday night are Mrs. Richard Henkel and Mrs. Robert Weiss, who are planning the same format as last year.

It will be an informal evening in a tent which will house the bands on Fete day. "Your Father's Moustache," an old fashioned banjo and brass group which plays in the Greenwich Village club of the same name will play for dancing.

Invitations are being sent to all workers on every Fete activity. Those who do not receive one should call Mrs. Henkel at 921-2527 or Mrs. Weiss at 799 0214. Invitations should be answered by May 28; dress is informal.

A cold buffet, at $15 a couple, will be served between 8 and 10 o'clock, to allow time for the commuting population to assemble. The buffet will feature sliced rare roast beef, ham, cheeses, salads and various accompaniments, plus dessert and coffee.

MAY SETTLE CLAIM

For Tree Damage. A damage claim for around $20,000 may be settled out of court by a Princeton Township property owner and the Township.

Elmer K. Timby, who owns land on The Great Road, has protested that valuable trees were damaged when the contractor for The Great Road sewer went outside the easement Mr. Timby had granted.

Although no formal papers have been received, indications are that the settlement will be for about $5,500. Of that, the Township would pay what would have amounted to court costs; that is, around $1,100. The balance would be borne by the insurance company, the bonding company and the contractor.

DIRECT FROM GREENWICH VILLAGE: "Your Father's Moustache," which provides music nightly in New York's Greenwich Village will play at the supper-dance to be held Friday, June 11, the night before the Hospital Fete.

BURLINGHAM SUSPENDED

For IDA Fire. William Burlingham, the Princeton University sophomore who has been charged with pouring and igniting lighter fluid in a ventilation grate at the Institute for Defense Analyses building last May, has been suspended from the University for one semester.

Handed down last week by the Judicial committee of the University, the suspension will be for the fall term. Burlingham will appeal the decision to university president Robert F. Goheen.

In February, a Mercer County Court judge sentenced Burlingham to three months in the county workhouse after he had pleaded guilty to attempted arson. The judge then allowed the sentence to be held in abeyance until summer to allow Burlingham to complete his spring semester.

It was the decision of the Judicial committee last week that a university student facing criminal charges can still be disciplined for a violation of university rules.

TV SET STOLEN

From Cannery Shop. A portable TV set was stolen last weekend from the Cannery Shop at the corner of William and Olden Streets.

Pfl. William Klink reported seeing a window broken on the side of the shop on Sunday. The owner of the one-room wooden shop, D. Don Richards, notified the proprietor, Mrs. Barbara Solan of Hightstown, who in turn reported the missing set. She placed no value on it for police.

Tape Deck Stolen. William Swain, 3 Lytle Street, reported the theft Tuesday morning of a $130 stereo tape deck from under the dash board of his parked car.

He told Pfl. Bernard Lenhardt that his car had been parked overnight in the Princeton Auto Parts lot on Witherspoon Street. A door had been forced open to get inside, police said.

SOUTER FILES SUIT

For Alleged Squibb Violations. E. R. Squibb and Sons and Lawrence Township face another possible round in court as a result of a suit filed last week by Sydney Souter, Princeton attorney who is a resident of Lawrence Township.

Although Mr. Souter claims his real target is Squibb, the New York-based pharmaceutical firm which is currently in the process of erecting a $12 million administrative and research complex off Route 206 and Province Line Road, his suit includes Lawrence Township and Marc Carmele, the township's building inspector.

It requests Squibb and the Township to show cause in court May 28 why a restraining order should not be issued to Squibb for violating the township zoning code. It further requests that no occupancy permit be granted until the violations are corrected.

Mr. Souter maintains that Squibb is violating the town ship's zoning ordinances concerning building height, buffer zones and high intensity lighting. His law firm, Souter and Kittell, 44 Nassau Street, is handling the case.

A company official for Squibb in New York replied that "Squibb is complying with all Lawrence Township requirements relating to the project."

Ten Feet Too High. Specifically, Mr. Souter, the 1968 Republican candidate for Congress, says that two independent engineering studies reveal that one of the buildings in the complex exceeds the 35 foot zoning maximum by more than 10 feet. He further charges that evergreen trees planted in a buffer zone are less than half of the required six feet, that utility lines on the site were being installed above ground instead of underground because of the cost involved, and that high intensity lights at the site constitute a nuisance and have lessened property values. Mr. Souter lives at 106 Carson Road which is adjacent to the construction site.

Mr. Souter's suit, filed in conjuction with his wife, Deborah, also cited the zoning board for failing to notify him when landscaping plans for the complex were filed with the planning board. Mr. Souter said that he had requested such notification but that the plans were approved without his being notified.

Lawrence Townshi attorney Michael Spicer commented that whether the requested injuction would stop construction would depend in part on what the plaintiff asks during the hearing and whether the judge would find a halt necessary. He said it is the second suit Mr. Souter has filed against Squibb.

WANT ECOLOGY STUDY

Sewer Action Postponed. Borough Council heard four spokesmen from various environmental groups Tuesday night, then decided to hold off action on the Sewer Authority ordinance until a special public meeting to be held Thursday, May 27, at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall.

Meanwhile, the Township's identical ordinance will be up for its public hearing next Monday at 8 in Township Hall, and representatives of ecological groups are expected to be present there also.

Foster Jacobs, chairman of the Stony Brook Regional Sewer Group that is the parent of the forthcoming Authority, has been asked to appear before Committee and has indicated that he will come, possibly bringing with him members of the Metcalf and Eddy, sewer consultant firm.

Ecology groups, including the Township's official Conservation Commission, want to see ecological studies made of the area before plans for the regional sewer treatment plant are made. Spokesmen for various organizations told Borough Council their groups all favor establishment of the Authority.

Councilman John Strange said that between now and the May 27 hearing, conservationists will have a chance to appear before the Stony Brook Regional Sewer Group and perhaps get it to amend the basic "master" Authority ordinance which all six communities to be in the Authority are in the process of passing.

Representatives appearing before Council spoke for the Conservation Coalition, the League of Women Voters, the Sierra Club and the Township Conservation Commission.

PROGRESS REPORTED

In Anti-Pollution Campaign. A working partnership between consumers and civic minded business people has been forged to halt indiscriminate ocean dumping off the New Jersey shore.

Joseph M. Boyd of 152 Alexander Street, President of Consumer Bureau, a four-year-old non-profit consumer organization, has announced that the Bureau will undertake a vigorous program of legal research, consumer education, publicity and other action necessary "to protect our priceless New Jersey marine environmental heritage against further abuse by New York, Philadelphia and assorted industrial plants as a cut rate garbage disposal unit.

"This program, like our other consumer programs," said Mr. Boyd, "will be financed by several hundred accredited Business Members of the Bureau who, in addition to meeting our standards of consumer service, also support our objectives as an organization."

While praising the efforts of "well-meaning public officials" to solve the problem of ocean dumping through new Federal legislation, Mr. Boyd indicated that Consumer Bureau will seek an earlier end to such ocean dumping through diligent enforcement of applicable laws already on the books which, he said, have not been fully enforced.

Court Action Taken. As a private citizen of New Jersey, and as a consumer, Mr. Boyd last week personally filed suit in two Federal District Courts seeking permanent injunctions against use of New York Har-

Host Families Needed

The Experiment in International Living, a program designed to provide a temporary home away from home of one to four weeks for foreign students, needs host families for its summer program.

The everyday life of the family gives students and trainees upon their arrival in the United States an opportunity to understand how Americans think, their values and goals. In turn, the lives of the family members are enriched by the opportunity to learn about another culture and society.

Offers of a temporary home in the Princeton area may be made to area chairmen Mrs. Joan Gail martin, 10 Nassau Street, 924 2672 or Mrs. George Warfield, 19 Longview Drive, 924 3594.

bor and Delaware Bay by all vessels engaged in dumping harmful waste materials anywhere on the Continental Shelf of the Atlantic Ocean off the coast of New Jersey.

One suit, brought against the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers which has supervision over New York Harbor, seeks to restrain the Corps from issuing required ocean dumping permits to New York City and others for dumping sewage sludge and other harmful waste materials on the Continental Shelf outside the Harbor. The other suit seeks the same result by direct action against three principal marine towing companies operating out of Delaware Bay.

Neither action seeks to prevent ocean dumping beyond the Continental Shelf, which is located 100 miles from shore.

CANOE RIDES POSTPONED To This Saturday. The "Day of Canoeing" which will feature free rides along the Millstone River and the Delaware-Raritan Canal has been re scheduled for Saturday from 10 to 3.

It was postponed from last weekend because of rain. The rides are being sponsored by the Stony Brook-Millstone Watersheds Association as a means of interesting the public in its program and activities.

The rides, which will take about 40 minutes, will begin and end at the new Canal Park which is located on Route 27 at the Princeton Kingston bridge. The canoes are being provided by members and friends of the Watersheds Association who will also act as pilots and will assist those unfamiliar with canoeing. Life jackets will also be provided

ANNUAL MEETING SET

For Family Service The annual meeting of the Family Service Agency will be held at a noon luncheon next Thursday, May 20, at the Theological Seminary Campus Center. The program will feature "Strengthening Families Under Stress" illustrated by case reports from the agency staff, as well as the president's and executive director's annual reports.

Officers for the coming year will be the Rev. Jack Cooper, president; Mrs. Richard Wilhelm, vice president; Allen Porter, treasurer; and Mrs. Alhridge C. Smith, secretary. New members of the board of directors will be Mrs. Donald Armstrong, John Barbour, John Fenton and Mrs. Edward Gibson.

Executive Director of Family Service is Seymour Plawsky. His staff includes Mrs. Marilyn Brown, Mrs. Wilts Bywaters, Mrs. Hendrica Kim and William Rhoads.

COMPUTER DANCE FRIDAY

For Twin Rivers Singles. Those attending the Twin Rivers Singles Dance Friday evening at the Geneva Inn on Route 1 will do so with more than routine interest.

All are divorcees, widows, widowers and people who have never married who last month filled out a match-making computer questionnaire. The computer has since digested all the information and completed its matchmaking. Compatible couples will be announced at the dance.

Newcomers are also invited to attend the dance if they are over 21.

In just a few short months, Twin Rivers Singles has grown from a small committee to a membership of more than 450. Purpose of the non-profit organization is to enrich the lives of singles with activities such as roller skating, bowling, card and house parties and theatre trips.

Additional information may be obtained by writing Box 59, Hightstown, N. J. 08520.

OFF TO SUNFISH POND

On Sixth Annual Trek. A one and a half hour leisurely hike to beautiful Sunfish Pond from Worthington Park at the Delaware Water Gap is urged for this weekend by the Sierra Club of Southern New Jersey and the Leoni Lenapa League. Starting point is the Worthington parking lot five miles up Old Mine Road, the last New Jersey exit from Highway I-80.

The annual pilgrimage is to draw attention to plans for a pump storage project near to the pond, in connection with the controversial Tocks Island Dam. The sponsors believe Sunfish Pond's unusual ecological features will be threatened by seepage.

A bill, A 517, which is currently stalled in the Senate Agriculture, Conservation and Natural Resources Committee, authorizes the state to repurchase the land.

DR. GRANING TO SPEAK

At Morris Hall Dedication. The $4½ million Morris Hall Health and Rehabilitation Center in Lawrenceville will be dedicated on Saturday, May 22. The featured speaker is Dr. Harold M. Graning, United States Assistant Surgeon General.

The non sectarian institution is sponsored by the Roman Cathhic Diocese of Trenton, assisted by Hill Burton Funds. It is licensed as a special hospital for rehabilitation and restorative medical services, and is already receiving patients upon referral by physicians.

The public is invited to tour the Center from 2 to 5 p.m. on the day of the dedication.

LA LECHE UNIT FORMS

In Hopewell. A new La Leche League group will begin on Monday a series of four monthly meetings in Hopewell on "The Womanly Art of Breastfeeding."

The first session will be held at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Allan Grow, 83 West Prospect Avenue. Further information is available from Mrs. M. J. Johnson, 466-2253.

CAMP STAFF SELECTED

By YMCA. The Princeton YMCA Day Camp Staff has been selected for the 1971 Summer. The Director is Mr. Joseph A Schlegel graduate of Trenton State College presently coaching Cross Country Track and Baseball and instructing in Health Physical Education at Middlesex County College. He has been a Recreation and sports director since 1966.

Councelors attending the Princeton Theological Seminary are: Bob and Mariann McCreaght, David Smith, Thomas Sheffield, Tom Wood, and John Yeatts. The aquatic director Mr. Ken Veres is working on his M.A. in Health and Physical Education at Trenton State College. Jeff Wiewigar and John Steiger are returning for their third and fourth years from the University of North Carolina.

Assistant Counselor include Ginny Worthington from Pennington and Bob Turgeon from Notre Dame High School. The entire staff starts training in June for the opening of Day Camp Monday, June 28.

CAMP STAFF NAMED

For YMCA Summer Seasoo. The YMCA Ranger Camp Committee headed by James Sayen has selected its summer staff.

School Board Wins $500 And Plaque

Robert Bierman, president of the Princeton Regional Board of Education, accepts with pleasure the plaque declaring the Princeton board one of the two Northeast Region winners in the National School Board Awards Program sponsored by the Thom McAn Shoe Company and the Association of Classroom Teachers of the National Education Association.

Princeton teachers nominated the board for its support of the Wednesday Program. Mrs. Ruth Randall, president of the PREA Princeton's teachers' association (right) presents the award, assisted by Mrs. Jeanette C. Hodge, Mercer County representative on the executive board of the state Association of Classroom Teachers. Princeton's board will also get $500. Dr. Bierman says the board hasn't yet decided what to do with it. Into a scholarship fund perhaps, he suggested.

aid Steckshuite, studying at Princeton Theological Seminary and also teaching and coaching at the Lawrenceville School. Mr. Steckshuite was chosen for his experience in youth work and camping. He has been a full-time case worker with the State Mental Retardation Program, coached football and swimming, teaches biology and completed a summer camping trip to Alaska.

The balance of the staff is comprised of seven men, six from Princeton Theological Seminary and one teaching. Jack Gajewski of the Seminary returns from last years' staff as second in command and Will am Alexander, now teaching in southern New Jersey, also returns from last year's staff. The other men are, Gary Schroeder, Mark Starr, Charles Barfoot, Jan Bartlett and Jeff Coghill.

Chosen as assistant working leaders are three high school students - Rip Pellaton, Richard Hoisington and Bob Mc Lusky, all former Ranger Junior Leaders. YMCA staff members working with the camp are Walter Sorg and Peter Adicott.

Enrollment is now under way for boys 10 15 years in a broad program of camping and trips. Camp enrollment is at the 75% level, with some age group programs nearing capacity.

LUNCHEON PLANNED

To Honor Miss Braveman. Preparations are nearing completion for the Hadassah Ima luncheon Tuesday at the Jewish Center to honor Miss Alice Braveman for her years of service to the organization and the community.

Mrs. Seymour Bigdanoff and Mrs. Milton Horowitz are chairmen of the committee planning the luncheon. Assisting them are Mrs. Israel Heilweil, arrangements; Mrs. Thomas Stix, program; Mrs. Avner Robinson, tables and decorations; Mrs. Marvin Blumenthal and Mrs. Mark Pollard, invitations.

Members of Hadassah friends and associates of Miss Braveman are invited to the occasion. Reservations should be made with Mrs. Bigdonoff at 921-6043.

YMCA RECEIVES BUS

For Camping Trips. The Princeton YMCA received delivery this week of a new 30 passenger bus which will be utilized during the Summer to carry out Ranger Camping Trips to Canada, Maine, Colorado and Florida.

The bus will serve on a year round basis to conduct youth and adult programs particularly in serving surrounding Communities through youth programs utilizing the gymnasium and swimming pool.

Ranger Staff Members will be bus licensed to drive and lead the trips this Summer with approximately 18 boys and 2 leaders plus camping

Maybe someday all cars will be built like the Citroen.

Maybe someday.

Maybe it depends on you.

When you demand a car, for example, that would ride like a Rolls but costs like a Chevy. One that would take curves like a Maserati but seats a five full passengers. A car that would be in every sense a luxury car—yet burns gas like a tiny Volkswagen (27 MPG).

Maybe you could get that kind of car from Detroit if you demanded it. Or you could buy one right now. It's called a Citroen. Just go to your nearest Citroen dealer and test drive it.

Learn how good other cars may someday be; and how someday is today with a Citroen.

ART In Princeton

CARTOONIST TURNS PUBLICIST: Henry Martin, a Princeton resident whose cartoons appear in The New Yorker and other national magazines, drew this one to help call attention to the Jaycees Art Show on May 22 and 23.

ART SHOW PLANNED

Jaycees Set Annual Event. "New Yorker" cartoonist Henry Martin will be featured at "Art 71," the annual Princeton Jaycee Art Show to be held on Saturday and Sunday, May 22-23, at the YMCA.

Participating in the show will be professionals and amateurs alike, with entries of painting, sculpture, and crafts. Entry forms are available at the "Y," Cousins Liquors on Palmer Square, The English Shop and Saks Fifth Avenue on Nassau Street. Further information is available from Jaycee Vice President Peter Addicott at the "Y."

Mr. Martin will exhibit a collection of his cartoons at the show, some of which will be recognized as having appeared in various national publications. While he is under contract to give The New Yorker first choice of his work, he has also published in the New York Times Book Review, Saturday Review, Look, Ladies Home Journal, McCalls, and others.

Mr. Martin's favorite subjects for cartooning are ecological topics and the world of big business. His recent book, "All Those in Favor," treats the latter subject humorously. Active both professionally (drawing 23 cartoons a week), and in community affairs (donating his talent to this year's Princeton Hospital Fete), Mr. Martin still found time to help the Jaycee's "Art 71" by drawing the above cartoon.

ARTIFACTS ON EXHIBIT

At Gallery 100. An unusual aggregation of garden-oriented artifacts is currently on display at Gallery 100 in the annual Garden Show. In the rear gallery the visitor will find a wide selection for his outdoor pleasure.

A collection of Ilse Johnson bells is again hanging in massive arrangement, interspersed with a group of planters. The ceramicist teaches at Trenton State College, has been featured on TV, is a Corning Ware designer and has shown at America House.

Equally weighty in impact is a pair of huge birdlike weather vanes by Tom Johnson, a designer with Orithetics in Hopewell. Most unusual is his addition of glass fishing floats.

Wind chimes by E. O'Donnell, a blacksmith, make bold black designs against the walls and lend beautiful tone when struck.

Diverse sculpture by Puerto Rican sculptor Domingo Izquierdo adds bold impact here and there. A shaft of stainless steel is centered, a most interesting spider is in the window, floral copper fountains and masks are also to be seen. Sun dials, raffia hangars, oriental statuary and jars complete the summer effect.

In the front gallery, Princeton photographer Elizabeth Stetson is showing a striking array of color portraits of the sea and the countryside. She has shown in Massachusetts and Virginia and displays here a talent for turning the scene at hand into a poetic work of vivacity and charm.

RESTORER AT WORK

Oa Shahn Fresco. Art restorer Ottorino Nonfarmale of Bologna, Italy, is removing Ben Shahn's 55-ft. mural from a wall of the Roosevelt Elementary School.

The intricate peeling process should be completed this week and the fresco will be rolled into a cylinder and flown to the restorer's studio for repairs.

The mural, commissioned in 1937 by the Farm Security Administration, is internationally known. It depicts the arrival of Eastern European immigrants on American soil, the organizing of the garment workers' trade unions and the planning of the Roosevelt community. One can see Albert Einstein, Charles Steinmetz, union leader David Dubinsky in his youth; as well as Sidney Hillman, Senator Robert F. Wagner and Heywood Broun, all of whom helped plan the village.

The Friends of Ben Shahn will hold a sale at the school on Saturday and Sunday, May 22 and 23, to benefit the restoration. Artists contributing works are Raphael Soyer, Haim Gross, William Gropper, James Kearns, Mrs. Ben Shahn, the artist's widow; their children, Abby, Jonathan and Judith Shahn, and daughter-in-law Joyce Shahn.

Mr. Nonfarmale has restored works by Giotto, Bellini, Pierfo della Francesca, Pisano, Veronese and other artists in churches and palaces throughout Italy, under commission from the Italian Government. He teaches restoration at the Academy of Fine Arts of the University of Bologna.

Roosevelt, now a hamlet of 250 families, was created by the Federal Government in 1935 as a cooperative community for Eastern European Jewish immigrants struggling in the garment industries of New York and Philadelphia. Ben Shahn lived there until his death in 1969.

SHOW PLANNED IN JUNE

Eatries Invited. An art show open to all New Jersey artists sponsored by the Somset Art Association will be held at the Hooper Holmes Bureau, Basking Ridge, on Saturday, June 5, and Sunday, June 6. Prizes in excess of $2500 will be awarded.

MUSIC In Princeton

TONY HUGHES TO SING

At Folk Society Concert. Folksinger Tony Hughes will appear in an informal concert at 8:30 p.m., Friday, at the Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church, Witherspoon and Quarry Streets. The concert is sponsored by the Princeton Folk Music Society.

Mr. Hughes was hailed as the "surprise hit of the weekend" at the 1970 Philadelphia Folk Festival, a festival where he has appeared several times.

He has appeared at many colleges in the Northeastern U. S as well as coffeehouse and club performances, including The Main Point and the Second Fret, both in Philadelphia. In addition to performing his music, he teaches at the Miquon School in Philadelphia.

The concert is the six and final concert presentation for 1970-71. Tentative plans for next fall has Bruce "U. Utah" Phillips, "The Golden Voice of the Great Southwest," scheduled to open the 1971-72 season in October.

Admission to the Tony Hughes concert is $1.25 general admission and $1 for students. For further information contact Stu Berger, 59 Marion Road East, 924-2726.

STUDENT RECITAL SET

At St. Andrews. Voice pupils of Evelyn Bloom will be presented in student recital at 8 p.m., Friday, in the choir room of St. Andrews Presbyterian Church (Chambers Street entrance).

Those appearing include David Rosenbloom, Dawn Whalley, Lunn Ann Merrill, Terry Gettelfinger and Mindy Jones, performing works from early composers, folk idiom and contemporary writers.

Adding a change of pace to the vocal program will be the appearance of two young pianists. Both pupils of Robert Haley, Peter Goldstein and Steven Barczay have recently competed in the Gindhart and Anna B. Stokes Music Scholarships contests. Steven Barczay won third place in the Stokes and will go on to compete in the semi-finals of the Gindhart.

FINAL MEETING SUNDAY

For Musical Amateurs. The last meeting for the 1970-1971 season of the Princeton Society of Musical Amateurs will be held at 3, Sunday afternoon at the Unitarian Church.

OTHER PAPERS will run your classifieds for half price, or for nothing if they do not sell. In TOWN TOPICS, you'll find more ads and better results.

In addition to members of the Society, musically interested persons are cordially invited to participate or attend, and should contact Mrs. M. B. Gottlieb at 921-7214 if they wish to do so. There will be a small charge for non-members to cover music and refreshments.

STUDENTS TO PERFORM

In Vocal Marathon. Students of Shirlee Emmons and William McGrath (voice teachers at Princeton University) will be presented in a Vocal Marathon this Friday.

The hours will be 4-6 and 8-10 p.m.; during these hours the public may come and go listening to sopranos, altos, tenors and baritones perform songs, duets, trio, etc., including the fully staged production of an entire opera: "The Telephone" by Menotti. The Marathon will be at the Woolworth Center Rehearsal Room; it is sponsored by the Friends of Music and is free of charge.

Highlights will include a duet from "Butterfly" at 4 p.m., operatic duets, trios, the quartet from "Rigoletto" and sextet from "Lucia" around 4:30 p.m., Moussorgsky "Nursery Songs" and songs from Gilbert and Sullivan ending the afternoon section. After dinner, the Menotti opera will be performed at 8 p.m., followed by works by Faure, Ginastera, Handel, Brahms, Britten and Poulenc. The "Cat Duet" of Rossini will be sung by Miss Emmons and Mr. McGrath.

RECITAL SUNDAY

By Ruth Plum Students. A piano recital by students of Ruth Plum will be given Sunday at 4 in her studio at 24 Murray Place.

Those taking part are Marjorie Morse, Polly Mitchell, Debbi Pehta, Lisa Love, Pat Morris and Timothy Pehta. Works of Bach, Beehaven, Mozart, Haydn, Chopin, Gershwin and others will be played, as will original compositions.

RECITALS SCHEDULED

At New School for Music. The second and third programs in the series of piano recitals presented by students of the New School for Music Study will take place Friday evening at 8 and Saturday at 2. The programs will be presented in the school's new location at the corner of Shaw Drive and Lincoln Highway in Kingston.

Students taking part in the Friday evening program are: Elsie Armstrong, David Asch, Eric Asch, Patricia Atkinson, Evan Brinton, Claire Fontijn, Sarah Glinka, Donna Hellwe', Ted Hellwell, Jean McLaughlin, Jason Morgan, Michele Morgan, Sevy Phalangas, Laurie Reisberg, Sandy Reisberg, Richard Styx, John Sullivan, Kathy Teapole, Susan Weiner, Ann Wilson, Cynthia Woolston and Mei-Ling Wu.

Friendliness at Princeton's First goes more than smile deep. It goes all the way to our pocketbook. To illustrate the point, we've just lowered our interest rate on new car loans.

Frankly, we didn't lower the rate just to prove we're nice people. We did it because we'd like to have your business. Perhaps that's why we smile so much. People have been bringing us their banking business for more than three-quarters of a century. That's enough to make even a banker smile.

Stop in at any office. We can arrange your car loan in minutes. Even before you buy.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

By Red Cross This Summer. As in past years, the Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross is able to offer many opportunities for volunteer service for youth in the area. The number has increased this year as the Red Cross moves into new fields. Those interested in any of these programs are urged to contact the Youth Director of the Red Cross, Mrs. Sally Groden, at the Red Cross - 924-2404 - any weekday between 9 and 4:30.

Several programs have been established so far. The most prominent is the Retarded Center Day Camp in Trenton. Every year about 25 youth participate, each going twice a week from 9:30 to 2:30. The camp lasts from July 6 to August 13, and transportation can be arranged.

For the second year Red Cross Youth has been asked to find volunteers for a program at the Slackwood School in Lawrenceville. The volunteers work every morning from 9 to 12 on an intensive one-to-one basis with a neurologically impaired child. The program is Monday through Friday July 5 to 30.

Red Cross Youth has offered to find youth volunteers for two of Princeton's day care centers. The volunteers could choose their own hours and working periods, so they could work for a few weeks at a time.

For students who will be away for part of the summer, there will be a new Red Cross Community Service Club which will work on short-term projects such as a party for children at the Neuro-psychiatric Institute or a project for the residents of Spruce Circle.

Youth (and adult) volunteers are needed at the Red Cross Office as receptionists and to help with other aspects of Red Cross work. Hours for receptionists could be arranged according to the individual's schedule.

Besides answering the phone the volunteer could help with many of the programs which the Red Cross operates, such as the swimming program and Blood Services. Other volunteers are needed to work in the Princeton Hospital Blood Bank and in bloodmobiles. This work would include registration, medical histories, taking of temperatures and pulses, and other related activities.

In co-ordination with the Red Cross's volunteer program at Walston Army Hospital at Fort Dix, youth are invited to participate in the many aspects of this program. Work in the hospital includes work in clinics, wards, pharmacy, and recreation, with children, babies, women and men. Outside the hospital volunteers work in the Red Cross field office, clinics, a camp for handicapped children, and day care centers. Times and transportation will be arranged later.

To continue its work in Ecology, a new Red Cross Ecology Club will be meeting each week at the Red Cross. The club will work in co-ordination with the Millstone-Stoneybrook Watershed Association. The first two projects will be collection of bacteriological data for the state on streams, and opinion research.

ANNUAL SHOW PLANNED

By Rhododendron Society. The fifth annual Cut Truss Show of the American Rhododendron Society, Princeton chapter, will be held on the grounds of the Stuart Country Dayl School Saturday and Sunday. The show runs from 10 to 4, and will be open to the public Sunday.

On display, and entered in competition for a number of awards, will be hundreds of pastel - colored rhododendron blooms, each grown outdoors in the exhibitor's garden, and cut as nearly as possible at the peak of perfection. Ranging in color from white through pink and apricot to deep purple, the blooms and their surrounding deep green foliage are known as trusses. Each bloom or truss is made up of as many as 20 flowerets, some of which may be as much as two inches across, so that the effects of prize-winning trusses are frequently spectacular.

According to Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett, chairman of this year's show, entries have been submitted by more than 60 exhibitors, a number of them in several different classifications.

BIKE RIDE SUNDAY

In West Windsor. The monthly bicycle ride sponsored by the West Windsor Recreation Dept. will be held on this Sunday, ending with a tour of the grounds of the American Cyanamid Company.

Field notes, prepared by Joe Schmeltz, Mercer County Naturalist, will be used during the trip which will begin in the Maurice Hawk School parking lot on Clarksville Road at 2 p.m.

During the approximately two-and-one-half-hour trip, which includes many stops, cameras and picture taking will be encouraged. However, no cameras will be allowed on the grounds of American Cyanamid.

POPULATION VS. ECOLOGY

Conference Planned Here. Princeton University alumni and their wives will participate this June in a week-loag program, "A Thriving Population in a Shrinking World."

The second annual Alumni College will convene June 6-11 during Commencemeat Week, and will feature a versatile faculty composed of businessmen, engineers and public servants, as well as natural and social scientists on the Princeton faculty. The program is open to the entire Princeton community.

Dr. Henry S. Horn, a Princeton biologist, and conservationist Thomas C. Southerland, Assistant Director of the University's Office of Research and Project Administration, are directing arrangements. The "College" organized under the auspices of the Alumni Council Committee on Academic Affairs, will deal with such questions as the patterns of growth and distribution of population; how these patterns are affected by transportation, urbanization, and the distribution of resources; and the importance of solitude — "our only natural resource that is exhausted."

Opening the program will be two alumni prominent in environmental affairs: University Trustee Laurence S. Rockefeller '32, Chairman of the Citizen's Advisory Committee on Environmental Quality, and William D. Ruckelshaus '55, Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency. They will talk about, and lead discussions on, "The Role of Government and Private Initiative."

One of the nation's leading demographers, Dr. Ansley J. Coale '39, Director of Princeton's Office of Population Research, will share with George C. Denniston, Jr. '55, Vice-President of Population Dynamics (Seattle, Wash.), a discussion of "Population and the Environment."

Congressman William F. Ryan (D., N.Y.), Princeton '44, will moderate a panel discussion on "Power Generation: A Study of Present Resources in Relation to Population Growth."

"'Sprawl?' The Future of Our Cities" will be discussed by Robert L. Geddes, Dean of Princeotn's School of Architecture and Urban Planning. "Population Density, Congestion and Mobility: The Options Provided by Urban Transportation Alternatives" will be examined by Dr. Jack E. Snell '57, Assistant Professor of Civil Engineering, while "Manifestations of Overcrowding: Drugs, Crime and Other Psychological Problems" will be considered by sociologist Dr. Robert D. Scott.

The group of 50 to 60 alumni and wives will be headquartered in the Princeton Inn College Daniel N. White '63. Assistant Secretary of the Alumni Council, is serving as the College's "administration," notes that: "If interest continues to gather momentum we may well set up a regular mid-summer program for alumni who want to combine vacation activities with academic interests."

ANTIQUES SHOW PLANNED

At Shopping Center. An antiques show and sale will be held Saturday, May 22, at the Princeton Shopping Center. Some 50 dealers from the Mid Atlantic states will show a variety of antiques from 10 to 6.

Sponsored by the Shopping Center Merchants Association, the show will be set up in the centeral mall area under the covered arcade. Dealers participating are well known in their specialties and will be displaying antiques from several periods of Americana.

BARGE PARTY PLANNED

YWCA Invites Everyone. A family barge party, open to the public, will be sponsored by the YWCA on Sunday, June 6.

Guests will board the barge in New Hope at 3 for the mule drawn trip up the Delaware Canal and will enjoy a program of folk dancing during the scenic ride. The barge will dock at a picnic area for a "bring your own" supper.

Reservations are requested at the YWCA office. Children must be accompanied by an adult and transportation to New Hope will be provided for those who request it.

FORUM ON CALLEY SET

In Roosevelt on Friday. Dr. H. H. Wilson, Professor of American Politics at Princeton University, will discuss the Calley trial in the perspective of the domestic effects of the Vietnam war at a public forum in Roosevelt on Friday at 8:30 p.m. at the Roosevelt School.

Professor Wilson will be joined by Mark Evans, chairman of the Trenton Chapter of Vietnam Veterans Against the War and former captain of the river patrol boat in Vietnam. A representative of the Newark Chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union will discuss military justice and the rules of war as exampli fied by the Calley court martial. There will also be a showing of "Winter Soldier," a 15 minute film about war actions by men who have served in Vietnam. The forum, sponsored by the Roosevelt Peace Action Committee, is open to all.

DAY CAMP PLANNED

By Lions in West Windsor. The West Windsor Township Lions Club is planning its 11th annual season of day camp activities. The camp is open to all children of the West Windsor-Plainsboro Regional School District who will be entering grades two through eight in the fall.

Featuring daily swimming, weekly cookouts, team competition, a variety of arts and crafts projects, hiking, scavenger and treasure hunts, and many games and sports, the camp has the services of Mrs. Cynthia Dalton and Mrs. Shirley Herrick as supervisors. They will be assisted by a staff of trained teenage counsellors.

Application blanks are to be found in stores displaying posters and in the April issue of the West Windsor Newsletter. Parents should enroll their children as soon as possible because a priority of acceptance is necessary due to limited facilities.

The cost is $20 for the two week session. This fee includes daily swimming charges, beverage, craft materials, cookout supper and a camp T shirt. The camp is made possible through the financial projects and donations of time and energy of members of the West Windsor Lions Club.

ADULTS ALSO TO STUDY

In Lawrenceville Summer Session. Adults will study beside high school students this summer in an experimental session offered by the Lawrenceville School. Courses such as The 21st Century, The Stock Market, Computer Programming and International Law will enroll students of all ages.

The director, Dr. Wade Stephens, believes that including adults in such courses will make for a more exciting and more fruitful experience. "Adults and teenagers have a great deal to offer each other," he says, "and education should not isolate these groups from each other." He hopes that an exchange of views will occur which will add an extra dimension to the classroom.

The Lawrenceville Summer Session has offered enrichment work for nine years, first in Advanced Placement courses, but recently in many other areas. Students from all over the country have participated in "An Adventure in Learning" which has helped them see the excitement that can come from digging deeply in to a subject.

Many classes meet for two hours, with only a 10-minute break during that time. Students report that they find this extended stretch of time a valuable opportunity to concentrate on one subject. "They can get their teeth into it in a way they never can when they rush from class to class," says Dr. Stephens.

Live below your means.

If you'd like to get around the high cost of living, we have a suggestion:
Cut down on the high cost of getting around.
And buy a Volkswagen. It's only $1845.
That's around $1200 less than the average amount paid for a new car today. Leave it in the bank. More's coming.
A VW saves you hundreds of dollars on upkeep over the years.
It takes pints, not quarts, of oil.
Not one lota of antifreeze.
And it gets about 26 miles to the gallon. The average car (thirsty devil that it is) only gets 14.
So the more you drive, the more you save.
And chances are, you'll drive it for years and years. (Since we never change the style, a VW never goes out of style.)
Of course, a VW's not much to look at. So a lot of people buy a big flashy car just to save face.
Try putting that in the bank.

Dr. Carl A. Fields

Dr. Carl A. Fields, Princeton University's senior black administrator, will become the chief planning officer as of August 1 at the University of Zambia, the only university in the central African republic which was formerly the British Protectorate of Northern Rhodesia.

Now Assistant Dean of the College, Dr. Fields has been on the University's staff since 1964, initially as Assistant Director of Student Aid and in his present post since 1964. Involved extensively in educational counselling work here, he is generally credited with playing a key role in expanding and strengthening minority student opportunity at Princeton.

Dr. Fields' departure, coupled with the forthcoming sabbatical leave of Dr. Andre Maman, also an Assistant Dean, will signal a general shifting od responsibilities in the office of which both are a part, according to Dean of the College Edward D. Sullivan.

Dr. Cecelia H. Drewry, an Assistant Dean of the College with primary responsibility for foreign study programs and upperclass academic counseling, will become Chairman of the Board of Advisors when Dr. Maman's term expires this summer. The Board handles a great deal of both academic and personal counseling; in addition, faculty members of the Board assist entering freshman in planning their fall term academic program and help students to assess scholastic problems wisely.

In addition, moving from his office in New South will be Lawrence T. Ellis, now Assistant Director of Educational Programs and Conferences and head coach of track and cross country. He will become Director of Special Educational Programs, with a West College office, will absorb increasing responsibilities in counseling and other work among the University's black students, and will continue his coaching.

Mr. Ellis, the Ivy League's first black head coach, joined the Princeton staff last year. He will be aided by Mrs. Frank L. Scott, now an Administrative Assistant, who becomes Assistant Director of Special Educational Programs.

Donald Brown, Canal Road, Rocky Hill formerly publisher and editor-in-chief of Pegasus, a division of Western Publishing Company, Inc., has formed his own company, Donald W. Brown Inc.

The new company which has an office in New York

Dr. Cecelia H. Drewry

City at 60 East 55th Street, will specialize in non-fiction, mostly books on aspects of contemporary American life and culture.

Sales, shipping, billing and collecting will be handled by Charles Scribner's Sons, and Donald Brown titles will appear on Scribner's invoices and order forms.

It is expected that the arrangement with Scribner's will provide the new company with many of the advantages and efficiencies of a larger company without some of the disadvantages of size. Mr. Brown expects to give most of his time to editorial and promotional matters.

The new company has five books under contract, four of which are in production. One of them is by David Hapgood, a former resident of Princeton, who is a senior editor of The Washington Monthly. Entitled "Diplomaism," the book explores the disease described by Mr. Hapgood as now rapidly spreading throughout America, of judging people by their academic degrees. Publication date is Monday, May 17.

Formerly a reporter for the New York Times and an evaluator for the Peace Corps, Mr. Hapgood is the author of Africa: From Independence to Tomorrow.

Patrolman Edward Davis, of the West Windsor Township Police Department, has graduated first in a class of more than 75 at the Municipal Police Training School at Sea Girt, where he underwent an eight-week basis police training course. A resident of Trenton, he joined the department on March 1. He is the fourth member of the West Windsor Police Department to finish first in his class.

Nicholas Dewey, 90 Princeton Avenue, Rocky Hill, is one of 28 recipients of a 1971 Grant-In-Aid for Research in New Jersey history, provided by the New Jersey Historical Commission. The commission began the annual program last year to stimulate original research and writing on the history of New Jersey by both academic and amateur historians. Mr. Dewey's topic is: "Man in the Front Line: The Medical Life of Dr. William Carlos Williams (1863-1963)".

Robert Mark, 108 Dempsey Avenue, Associate Professor of Civil Engineering at Princeton, addressed the New York Academy of Sciences Wednesday on "The Structural Rationale of Gothis Cathedrals." Prof. Mark has been utilizing techniques of experimental stress analysis in studies of medieval architecture.

The Berklee College of Music, Boston, the International Educational Institution for the Study of Modern American Music, has accepted Robert M. Kraft, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis S. Kraft of Ridgeview Road for its seven-week summer program which begins on June 2. His curriculum will include private instrumental instruction, arranging, improvisation and performing with large and small bands.

Navy Senior Chief Petty Officer Robert P. Johnson, son of Prall Johnson Jr., 118 Dutch Neck Road, Hightstown, has been awarded his sixth good conduct medal while serving with the Oceanographic Development Squadron Eight at the Naval Air Station, Patuxent River, Md.

Patricia A. Hellyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Hellyer, Timberlaine Drive, Pennington, has been selected as a resident assistant to freshman women at Bucknell University for the 1971-72 academic year. She is a 1969 graduate of Hopewell Valley Central High School.

Edward Shapiro, 5 Woodland Drive, has been named to the Dean's List at the University of Denver for the winter quarter.

classes offered this summer include art, drama, media, literature, biology, chemistry, mathematics, law, and history. Other courses, one hour each day, including psychology, architecture, music, and computer programming. The Summer Session will run from June 28 through August 6.

Peter Candler, director of the school's Kirby Arts Center, will lead a course in The New Arts in New York and its Environs, which will explore underground films, off Broadway theater, electronic music, ballet, the influence of technology, and other topics, both in class and on field trips to performances both in New York and locally.

The Twenty-First Century will examine the trends in American society today and consider where they may lead in another generation. It will be a course without a fixed syllabus, so that students will have a chance to study areas of special interest to them.

Mr. Jeremiah Ford, a practicing architect in Princeton, will lead a class on The Design of the Man Made Environment. By becoming involved in design, students will learn how the design of buildings and the spaces around them affects the lives and purposes of people using them.

GARDEN PARTY PLANNED

At Stuart Country Day. The fourth annual Garden Party will be given by Sacred Heart alumnae and parents of Stuart Country Day School at the school, Saturday, May 22 from 5 to 7.

Proceeds will benefit the Stuart Development Fund. Feautred this year will be a sculpture exhibit by Raymond G. Barger of Carversville, Pa.

Honorary chairmen will be Governor and Mrs. William T. Cahill, Dr. and Mrs. Robert F. Goheen, and J. Lionberger Davis. General chairmen of the affair are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald F. Crumlish and Mr. and Mrs. William M. Lanning. The committee includes: Mr. and Mrs. John P. Belli, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice J. Brown, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Kane, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Kenfield, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Lucarella, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Maruca, Mr. and Mrs. Holt A. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Landon Peters, Mr. and Mrs. David K. Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Reiche and Mr. and Mrs. William L. Royal.

GARDEN PARTY COMMITTEE MEMBERS: Mrs. Maurice Browning of Hopewell and Mrs. William L. Royal of Princeton Junction are members of the committee planning the annual Garden Party at Stuart Country Day School.

NEW FACT BOOK OUT

For 1971. The 1971 edition of the Princeton Historical Fact Book, containing 96 pages of facts and photographs, is now completed and available at the Chamber of Commerce Office, 44 Nassau Street. Copies are $2.

Published by Lenhart Publishing Company, 44 Nassau Street, and edited by Susan L. Davis also of Princeton, this year's book is a comprehensive look at the many facets of life in this area. Directed at the newcomer to the community or one of the many communities in the surrounding area, the book also gives information of interest to the longtime resident.

Included are scores of photographs and illustrations of old and of new Princeton, a brief history of the town, a listing that describes many of the historical houses and sites as well as a listing of important telephone numbers, public and private schools, restaurants and hotels, a guide to eating out, and general information for the resident and homeowner, prospective buyer, and visitor. Articles on several events and attractions are also included in this year's book.

One-a-Penny . . .

Princeton Day School's Megapenny Drive passed the 100,000 mark on Monday.

The goal is a million pennies, which will satisfy the senior astronomy class's curiosity as to what 1,000,000 of anything really looks like, and will also add $10,000 to the school's scholarship fund.

The penny pile is in a large wooden box, with lights and plastic windows, constructed by eighth grader John Joyce. First enthusiasm for the Megapenny drive faltered but it has picked up to the point that pennies come in at the rate of 5,000 a day.

Pennies on hand weigh slightly more than 680 pounds; the goal of one million will weigh three and a half tons. . . .

The difference between a dead-end cellar and a basement-for-living

Without direct access to the out-of doors, your basement becomes a seldom used, dead-end area, instead of a "live", low-cost space for the enjoyment of your whole family.

A BILCO Basement Door costs so little when it's included in the foundation construction. With it, you will as much as double the living space of your new home! Let us show you how easily and inexpensively you can include a BILCO Door and Stair Stringers in your building plans.

There IS a difference in Pools!

And that difference is quality

. . . whether Concrete or Aluminum. Here are a few examples:

☐ LABOR SAVING AUTOMATIC FEATURES

All automatic pools are not automatic. Ours is. ACPS—Sylvan's Automatic Cleaning and Purifying system would rather do it itself. Even while you're in the pool swimming. ACPS is available in both Sylvan's UNIPOUR® Concrete, and All-Aluminum pools.

☐ TOUGH, NO MAINTENANCE FINISH

Or, in a word . . . PERMALON. Unlike marbledust plaster, PERMALON is resistant to staining and algae and since no annual refurbishing is necessary it puts you dollars ahead, season after season. Ask us to demonstrate this finish to you . . . and you'll insist on miracle PERMALON for lowest maintenance cost.

☐ RUGGED "COLD-CLIMATE" SPECIFICATIONS

Both Sylvan pools are ruggedly "over"-engineered because northern winters are notoriously tough on pools. Our UNIPOUR® pool is made of the highest strength concrete (4000psi), and the huskiest steel rods (½"). Our walls, floors and frost beams are the industry's thickest. Our All-Aluminum pool is constructed of extra heavy-duty extrusions, and a .025 vinyl liner that out-muscles the average liner by 20%. And both pools are covered by our superior guarantee.

☐ ASSURED CUSTOMER SATISFACTION (IN WRITING)

Twenty-five years of leadership in pool design and construction has made Sylvan the most recommended pool builder by architects and engineers. When you swim with Sylvan, you can be confident of years of worry-free pool ownership and lasting value. We guarantee it. In both our pools. In writing.

All Sylvan Pools meet or exceed the minimum standards of the National Swimming Pool Institute.

Quality makes the difference!

CONFUSION IN IST PLACE

In Eastern League Baseball. Three factors have combined to throw the Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League into a virtually unprecedented turmoil. Not only is the 1971 champion undetermined well after the schedule was supposed to have been completed but the perennial question of who will be selected for the NCAA District playoffs is more muddled than ever.

The king-size puzzle has been created by (1) three rainouts, all involving Cornell, which will have a chance to win outright if it can take two from Army and one from Navy; (2) the collapse of every one of the contenders in the final fortnight, so that a first-place tie between Harvard and Cornell with records as poor as 9-5 is possible; and (3) the addle-pated NCAA hierarchy in Kansas City, which refuses to budge in its unilateral decision that only one team from a league may enter the elimination rounds.

Princeton, which began the week with a fine 21-6-1 record, is almost certainly out of the playoffs because it cannot mathematically win the league title. Its only apparent hope is that Cornell will manage to finish first, yet have a poor enough overall record so that the selection committee will bypass it. The chances of such a chain of events are miniscule.

What makes the situation so frustrating to the Tiger nine and baseball fans hereabouts is the fact that its current record ranks it with the best teams not only in this district but also in New England. If Cornell stumbles in its remaining games and Harvard wins the title, the Crimson's entry into NCAA action will rule Princeton out, despite the fact that the Tigers have a better overall record than Harvard and defeated it twice.

*(if necessary)

Two for Three Inadequate. When Dartmouth scored twice in the last of the ninth to win, 2 to 1, at Hanover Friday, Princeton was mathematically eliminated from contention in the race. Had the Tigers won, they would have gone to Cambridge next day with a chance to win the title, because Columbia kept Harvard from clinching first place when it upset the Crimson 7 to 6.

Bill Coppedge had a 1-0 shutout for Princeton after eight innings, but had been used infrequently this spring because of an arm injury and could not answer the bell in the ninth. Randy Blevins took over, walked the first batter and allowed a double to the next.

George Cummings replaced him but the Indians scored twice, the winning run crossing on a scratch single by pitcher Pete Broberg. Princeton wasted a pair of triples, including a leadoff three-bagger in the first by John Rooney, its inability to deliver with runners on base again costing it the ball game.

Harvard's league - leaders took a 20-and-4-4 record into the Saturday doubleheader but long dormant Princeton hatchet tonk care of the Crimson. Captain Ray Huard became the first Tiger player in more than a decade to hit two homers in an afternoon as the Orange and Black cascaded 28 safeties around the premises in 14 innings. The scores were 9-6 and 11-2.

Rally Wins First. The home team had a 6-3 lead behind strong pitching after five innings in the first game, but a six-run rally in the next round capped by Huard's four-base blow did the trick. Jack Hittson was the winner for his eighth of the year without a loss.

Huard's homer in the second game helped wrap up the decision early. It was a grand slam in the first, the foundation for a five-run lead on which Blevins coasted for the distance.

Princeton hitting, which had failed so completely against Brown, Yale and Dartmouth, was an eye-popper for Harvard fans. Hank Bjorklund, mired in a season-long slump, was four for seven on the day; Doug Blake was five for eight; and Bob Schiffner, three for six. The latter has a good chance to win the league batting title.

The Tigers had Rutgers on the schedule Tuesday (see page 36), play Seton Hall at South Orange Thursday and close with St. John's Friday at 3:30 on Clarke Field. Then they'll wait a week while other results and the District II selection committee determine whether they have a chance at the playoffs, which start here Thursday, May 27.

LIGHTWEIGHTS THIRD

But Heavy Crew Disappoints. The extent to which one crew reaches its peak early and then fades while another improves steadily with each passing week was demonstrated Saturday in the Eastern Sprint Championships held on Lake Quinsigammond at Worcester.

In early April, Princeton defeated Rutgers and Navy on successive Saturdays, but failed to win another race. Last weekend, Navy won the easterns, followed by Rutgers and upset victory over defending champion Harvard.

Princeton not only failed to qualify for the six boat final but finished fourth in the consolation race. Small consolation in another sense for the Tigers was the fact that they were the only shell to defeat the midshipmen this season, a feat they accomplished on Lake Carnegie by four fifths of a second.

All Princeton 150 lb crews qualified for the finals, with the varsity making the best showing. The Orange and Black was third, behind Harvard and Columbia (which it had beaten earlier in the season). In points scored on an overall basis, Princeton was second to Harvard at the 150 lb. level but the heavyweights were 12th in a field of 13.

A month's break now precedes the IRA regatta at Syracuse. This may be the last such scheduling for the traditional event which has been held for many years in mid June after the close of academic calendars.

Plans are afoot to try to bring the west coast colleges here in mid-May, supplanting the easterns with a regatta of national stature. The earlier date is in line with economy measures being taken at colleges throughout the country.

NETMEN NEAR TITLE

With Two Matches Left. Victories by identical 7 to 2 scores over Columbia and Navy put the Princeton tennis team on the verge of winning the Eastern Association title this week.

The Tigers had a match with Yale at New Haven Wednesday, and a triumph there would do the trick. If upset, they could still win here Saturday by defeating Cornell, because every other member of the ten team association has lost at least twice. Coach John Conroy's Tigers were 7-0 going to New Haven.

Saturday's match with Cornell on the University Courts will start at 2. It is the only home event of the day as the season draws to an end.

CLOSE ONES, EASY ONES

Hun Wins Them. Last week was a typical illustration of why the Hun School baseball team is 10-1 this season and has a hammerlock on the north divisional championship in the Penn-Jersey League.

Early in the week, it took advantage of an abundance of mistakes by Academy of New Church to win easily, 10-4. Then it came back two days later on Friday and made its own opportunities to win a come-from-behind, extra-inning victory over Pingry. The score was 6-5.

Thus, ability to win the easy ones and the close ones has Hun on the threshold of the title in its division. Only two league games remain. The Red and Black will be at George School Saturday and at Perkiomen Wednesday. It was scheduled to make its final home appearance this Wednesday at 2:30 against Pennington School.

Sista Belts Two Homers. At Pingry, Hun fell behind when the home team bunched three hits in the first inning to take a 3-1 lead. Sista's homer with a man on brought Hun to within two, 3-3. Sista's second four bagger in the seventh, also with a man on, tied it.

Hun won it in the ninth when Jackie Petrone got on base and stole second. Outfielder Barry Sussman then bounced to short. The throw went to first. Petrone never stopped; he beat the return throw home for the winning run.

Dennis Skrajewski went the first eight innings for Hun. When he walked the first batter in the ninth, coach Dave Leete called on Ric Ziegler. Ziegler retired the side in order, striking out the last batter.

"Ziegler continues to do a great job for us," said Leete. "He's 5 and 0 and has two saves." He also praised Skrajewski, who had never pitched before, for the job he is doing this season.

The game with Academy of New Church was a strange one. Academy pitchers struck out 13 Hun batters and were touched for only four hits, one a triple by Ziegler. "Pitching is only a third of the game," Leete commented. "They made a lot of errors and we took advantage of all their mistakes."

Hun scored four in the fifth and four more in the last inning to put it away. The losers committed five errors in dropping their fourth game in six starts. They mustered three hits off Ziegler.

KEEP HUN STREAK ALIVE: The Hun School's winning streak in baseball — seven in a row — was kept alive Friday when Chuck Sista (left) hit two homers and Jackie Petrone scored the winning run in Hun's 6-5 victory over Pingry in extra innings. Hun is 10-1 overall.

PDS NINE ALMOST IN As Division Champion. The Princeton Day baseball team has only to win two of its last three games against below average competition to wrap up the goal that barely eluded it last year, the championship of the Day Division of the Penn Jersey League.

A 6-3 triumph over Germantown Friends last Friday, the Panthers' closest pursuer gave the Blue and White a two-game lead with three to play. Both schools have contests remaining with Pennsylvania School for the Deaf and Bryn Athyn, two of the weaker teams in the league.

PDS was scheduled to play Pennsylvania School for the Deaf this Wednesday away and home next Wednesday at 3:30. In between Bryn Athyn will visit the Great Road field for a Friday game at 3:15.

If PDS captures the title, it will go up against Hun on Saturday, May 22, on a neutral field for the championship of the Penn-Jersey League. Hun has wrapped up the title in the hoarding school division.

The Panthers spotted Germantown a pair of runs in the first with a pair of errors, but took a lead they never lost the next inning with a four run uprising. Tony Dale's bases loaded single was the big blow of the inning; the other run scored on Dave Seckel's sacrifice fly.

Germantown made it 4-3 in the bottom of the second on a walk, sacrifice fly and an error, but Dave Claghorn shut them out on only one hit over the next four innings, while fanning eight. PDS added two insurance runs in the fifth on hits by Pete McCandless, Carl Rosenburg and Carl Jacobelli.

Led by Rosenburg's four hits and five RBIs, including two home runs and a double, PDS walloped George School last Wednesday, 12-6. Carl Jacobelli also belted a pair of four baggers, good for three RBIs.

George managed to score first in the game, leading 1-0 until the fourth, when the Panthers errupted for five runs. They added three more in the fifth and four in the sixth. George scored five in the final inning.

Dave Seckel also hit a home run, and Claghorn, in relief of McCandless, got the win. PDS is now 6-3 overall and 5-2 in league play.

2 HOME GAMES FOR PHS

Franklin, Notre Dame Here. The Princeton High School baseball team, which has started the second half of the season with one-run victories over St. Anthony's and Cathedral, will try to keep its comeback alive at the expense of Franklin and Notre Dame.

Franklin will be here Friday and Notre Dame on Tuesday. Both games will be played on the PHS diamond, starting at 3:45. Thursday's rained-out with Steinert has been rescheduled for later in the month.

Greg Kline singled home Lee Langston in the fifth to provide the margin for the Little Tigers' 2-1 victory over St. Anthony's. Kline, a sophomore, had two of the five hits PHS collected off losing pitcher Jim McGovern.

For PHS, Lance Marshall started and went all the way, allowing only four hits. It was his second win in two days and the junior righthander now has credit for all three PHS wins. His grounder in the second inning drove in Princeton's first run.

The losers committed three errors as their record slipped to 3-7 - the same as Princeton High's.

IN TENNIS: THE BIG ONE

Princeton High vs. Princeton Day. Princeton Day, which had an otherwise perfect season marred last year by a defeat at the hands of Princeton High School, will again put an unbeaten streak on the line when the two meet at 3:45 Friday on the PDS courts.

Princeton High, which was expected to come into the match with a perfect 10-0 mark, is favored. It had two matches this week, but was favored in both. The Little Tigers' overall depth was expected to be the deciding factor in the match. Both schools have beaten their other opponents soundly.

In tuning up for the big one, the Panther netmen whipped George 4-1 last Wednesday, with only number one player Steve Bash losing, and blanked Germantown, 5-0, on Friday.

The annual Penn-Jersey League championship tennis tournament will be held Saturday, at Princeton Day. It is the first time PDS has hosted the matches, usually held at the George School, Newtown, Pa.

Besides PDS, defending Penn-Jersey champion, and George, teams will compete from Solebury, Pennington, Perkiomen, Germantown Friends and Hun.

The tourney is set up so all number one players play against each other, and so on. Each school will send three singles players and two doubles teams.

Play will be on both PDS and Hun courts, beginning at 10 a.m.

FOOTBALL COACH NAMED

At Princeton Day. George E. Conway, 23, has been named head football coach at Princeton Day School.

An assistant coach of freshman football at Princeton University last year, Conway is seeking his masters in Divinity at Princeton Theological Seminary. In addition to his coaching responsibilities, he will teach in the religion department at PDS.

A graduate of Wilkes (Pa.) College, Conway captained the 1969 eleven from his post as offensive center. He was later named to the Wilkes all-time great football team, composed of the best 22 players in the last 23 years. At Princeton last year he coached linebackers for the Tiger freshmen and also scouted for the varsity.

His first year at Princeton Day can pretty well be classified as a rebuilding year right now. The team has lost the nucleus of six seniors that led it to a 5-2-1 record last year, plus junior quarterback Peter McCandless, who will transfer to Andover this fall.

The team will play an independent schedule of seven games against Montclair Academy, Wardlaw, King School, MacArthur Military, Bryn Athyn, Morristown Prep and Mitchell Prep.

NETMEN KEEP ROLLING

PHS NOW 8-0. The Princeton High School tennis team is enjoying a "lovely" season.

The Little Tigers blanked Trenton, Friday and East Brunswick earlier, both in straight sets, to stretch their unbeaten streak to eight. The same players have been responsible: Michel Glouchevitch, Danny Thompson and Bill Schmidt in singles play and Niki Glouchevitch and Bob Aldridge and Dick Broad and Randy Thomas in doubles competition.

The only variance was junior George Barna playing the number three singles against Trenton in place of Schmidt.

Coming up is Friday's match with Princeton Day School which is led by Steve Bash. So far the Panthers also boast an unblemished record and Little Tiger coach Bill Humes predicted it would be a good match. On Tuesday, PHS will entertain Ewing in its next to last home appearance.

PHS LACROSSE TOPS HUN

Boonton Here Friday. The Princeton High School lacrosse team, which made it two in a row last week with a 5-2 win over Hun School, is fast closing in on the end of its season.

Boonton will be here Friday for a 3:45 contest at Community Park and on Wednesday coach Marv Trotman's Little Tigers will be at Newton. After that, only next Friday's finale with George School remains.

Saturday's scheduled match here with Hanover Park was a victim of the rain. Attempts are being made to reschedule it but Tretman reported he doesn't know yet when it will be played.

Third String Ignites. Against Hun last week, PHS trailed 2-0 "before we decided to get mad and play," Tretman said. He inserted his third string midfield of Pete Hague, Tom Graves and Bob Mangan. It worked.

"They really ignited us, they picked up the slack and I was very very pleased about that," Tretman commented. "After that, we dominated the game."

All the scoring came from regulars, however. Phil Nettner and Joe McGuinn each made a pair and Steve Stone added a single goal.

Penalty free play was another contributing factor to the victors' win. "The defense did not commit a single penalty," Tretman said. "In fact we had only about three the entire game; we practically never played with a man down."

COUNTY MEET SATURDAY In Track at Ewing. It will be a busy week for the Princeton High School track team but the highlight will be the annual Mercer County meet Saturday at Ewing High School.

Ewing, which had won the county title the four previous years, was upset last spring by Steinert, 64½ to 61. PHS finished fourth, just a few points behind Hamilton. Little Tiger coach Larry Ivan believes Ewing should rate as the definite favorite again off its performances this season.

Other schools participating will be Trenton, Notre Dame, St. Anthony, Lawrence, Hopewell Valley and Hightstown. The field events will start at 12:30, the running heat at 1.

Three Seeded First. PHS, which has stronger individual performers this year, has three of its members seeded first: Billy Evers in the 880 based on his best time of 2:02; Ron Rhodes in the long jump and Lawrence Parker in javelin. Rhodes' best leap has been 21-4, while Parker has hurled the javelin 199-4.

Parker and Ken White of Ewing are expected to continue their two-man battle. Last year, when Parker was again the favorite, he was upset by White who beat him with a throw of 178-4. In dual meet competition this spring, White again topped Parker on his last throw.

The mile should provide plenty of excitement. Top seeded is Hightstown's Paul Cope who has fashioned the best time this year at 4:36. Princeton High's Joe Bolster, who won it last year, turned in a 4:42 when he edged Trenton's top miler, Gary Hurst, two weeks ago. All three have a shot at it.

Three of the existing meet marks are owned by Little Tigers. Bart Bennett set both hurdle marks in 1966 running the 120-highs in 14.6 and the 180 lows in 19.1. Nick Kovalikides set the javelin record of 206-10 in 1956. It is the oldest existing mark.

Times and distances of the top seeded entries are all below the present meet records except in th high jump where Ewing's Jim Hearns has jumped 6-4 or two inches better than the meet record set in 1966.

Twa Home Meets. On Monday, PHS will play host to Somerville and on Wednesday to Lawrence. Both meets will be held at the PHS field starting at 4.

The team was also scheduled to entertain Hopewell Valley this Wednesday afternoon at 3:45.

BUSY WEEK AHEAD For PDS Lacrosse Team. Four games in eight days will keep the Princeton Day lacrosse team busy this week, and give it a chance to get back on the winning track after three consecutive losses. The Panthers are now 4-3 on the season.

In the first of the four contests, the Panthers were scheduled to play Rutgers Prep in a return match this Wednesday. They won the first meeting between the two schools, 12-9. Lawrenceville "B" team will provide the competition at 3:30 Friday at home, followed by Newton High School at 4 p.m., Monday, at home and the Hun School next Wednesday at 3:30 also at home.

Last Friday the Blue and White came close to upsetting undefeated Kimberton School, but finally lost a 6-5 decision. Kimberton jumped out to a 3-0 lead, but PDS narrowed the margin to 3-2 at the half on goals by Tim Smith and John Gordon. After the intermission, the visitors again moved up to a three-goal lead, and again PDS came within one at 5-4 with Smith and John Moore finding the range.

Each scored once more, but PDS could not come up with the equalizer. Smith tallied for PDS for another hat trick.

Against Poly Prep last Wednesday, PDS ran into another quick starting team, and found itself down 4-0 at the half. Poly again started quickly after the intermission and whipped in three more to lead 7-0. At this point PDS gradually began to take over control over the game, but the damage had already been done. Gordon, Smith and Sam Rodgers scored for PDS for a 7-3 final.

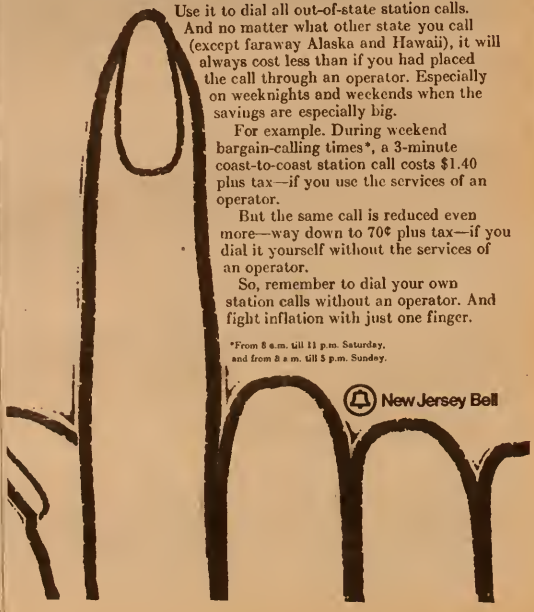
New Jersey Bell points out a wonderful gadget for reducing phone bills.

Your index finger.



Use it to dial all out-of-state station calls. And no matter what other state you call (except faraway Alaska and Hawaii), it will always cost less than if you had placed the call through an operator. Especially on weeknights and weekends when the savings are especially big.

For example. During weekend bargain-calling times*, a 3-minute coast-to-coast station call costs $1.40 plus tax—if you use the services of an operator.

But the same call is reduced even more—way down to 70¢ plus tax—if you dial it yourself without the services of an operator.

So, remember to dial your own station calls without an operator. And fight inflation with just one finger.

The first race will start at 10:45 and the public is invited to watch from the dock or shore on the lower end of the Lake. Boats from Southern New Jersey and the Philadelphia area will compete in the colorful event.

In Sunday's races — the fifth of the season - Bob Holzman won the Sunfish class over 13 boats by a wide margin. Jack Kunz was second, Walt Gibson third.

Ed Metcalf with his son, Ebe, as crew captured the Penguin competition, Bill O'Donnell finishing second, while top honors in the Sloops went to Hector Poventud with his daughter Julietta as crew. Jim McPherson was second.

The the hallway point in the spring season, last year's trophy winners in each class are again in the lead: Holzman among the Sunfish skippers, Metcalf in the Penguin class and McPherson in the Sloops.

MORE THAN 300 COMPETE

In Junior Olympics. More than 300 boys and girls from schools in Princeton competed in the first Junior Olympics at the Princeton High School field.

Winners in each event will represent Princeton in the District. One meet on Saturday, May 29, at Scotch Plains High School. First and second place survivors there will advance to the state champlonships at Rutgers Stadium, June 12.

Awards were presented to the first, second and third place winners here by the AAU and Quaker Oats, national sponsors. The meet was sponsored locally by the Princeton Recreation Department which received a lion's share of help from Joseph Opperman.

The Olympics were divided into three competing age brackets: Bantam, 9 and under; Midget, 10 and 11; and Junior, 12 and 13. Events included dashes, standing and running long jump, high jump, baseball throw and 440-yard relay.

In the Bantam class, first place winners among the boys and girls in the 50-yard dash were Billy Haynes (7.3) and Linda Littel (8.2); Standing long jump, Edward Dean (5-5) and Drew Rosenberg (5-7); running long jump, Tommy Lion (10-3) and Drew Rosenberg (8-4); baseball throw, Robert Cooke (148-3) and Elizabeth Kennedy (71-7).

The Riverside School quartet of Eric Swartzentruber, Derek Hiber, Robert Cooke, and Barry Turner won the 440 in 73.6. The Littlebrook School team of Karen Loew, Julie Opperman, Cheryl Johnson and Susan Wojciechowicz won for the girls in 71.7.

Tony Opperman dominated the Midget competition, capturing the 75 and 100-yard dashes in 10.0 and 13.8, and the standing long jump with a leap of 6-5. Mike Budd won the baseball throw (171-5) and standing high jump (3-10). Barry Turner's 12-9 won the running long jump. Jonathan Rosenthal, Andrew Sanford, Pierre Murri and Jonathan Miller of Littlebrook won the 440 with a clocking of 65.0.

Lora Jaffin, Marie Sheehan, Jean Rosenbluth and Joanne Rice won the same event in 67.4 to win for Johnson Park. Individual winners were Elizabeth Carothers, 50-yard dash (7.6); Mary Dwyer, 100-yard dash (14.6); Ann Gillispie, standing long jump (5-3); Sallie McEwen, running long jump (12-0); and Tina Kahny, baseball throw (101-7).

In the Junior competition, Richard Wilson won both dashes in 9.4 and 12.4. Mike Bolster captured the running triple jump with a 27-8 effort. They then combined with David Lacey and Melvin Miller to win the 440 relay in 58.4. All are from Valley Road School. Paul Soaerman (11-11) and Bob Ayung (3-0) triumphed in the running and standing long jumps.

Denise Bullock (100 and baseball throw) was a double winner among the girls. Melita Schaum won the 50-yard dash. Gwyneth Hamel, Kate Campbell, Francesca Ferrante and Melita won the 440.

BASEBALL TRYOUTS SET

For Junior and Senior Boys. The Princeton Youth Baseball Association is planning tryouts for its Junior and Senior Divisions. The association president is Ted Kopp; commissioner, Jack Petrone; and directors are Sandy Reynolds, Ben Silverman and Fred Leupper.

Junior Division tryouts will be held at the Grover Shopping Center field on Saturday, May 22, at 9 and Sunday, June 6, at 2. To be eligible for this division, a boy must have a birthdate between August 1, 1958, and July 31, 1962. There will be eight league teams.

Senior Division tryouts will be held at the Grover field on Sunday, May 23, at 9 and Saturday, June 5, at 2. Teams will again be sponsored by Thorne's Princeton Bank and Trust Company, Kai Soderman and the P.B.A. Birthdates of players must be between August 1, 1955 and July 31, 1958.

League play will begin June 21 and continue through early August. There will twice-weekly games for each league. Any boy living in Princeton or attending Princeton schools is eligible. Birth certificates should be brought to the tryouts.

Experienced baseball men are needed to help manage the teams for this summr. In addition, interested parents are needed to help with various clerical and equipment details. Those able to help should call Kopp at 921-7166.

THE GENERATION GAP . . .

Is a Tennis Net. Two generations of Princeton tennis players will meet for a 2 p.m. Sunday match at Community Park.

In an over-30 group will be Charles Ufford, Ken Wilson, Will Robins, Carl Witonsky and Sheldon Hackney playing singles; Bill Humes and Martin Katz and Pierre Pirone and John Glouchevitch will pair in doubles play.

Opposing them will be Steve Tobolsky, Michel Glouchevitch, Danny Thompson, Chris Lillie and Bill Schmidt playing singles. Niki Glouchevitch, Bobby Aldridge, Randy Thomas and Dick Broad will play doubles. All but Lillie and Tobolsky are members of the Princeton High School tennis varsity; Lillie plays for Hun.

LEAGUES FORMING

For Softball League. Any team or player wishing to enter the Princeton Recreation Softball League must contact Donald Barr of the Recreation Department before May 21.

So far, six teams make up the league: Conte's Bar, the defending champion; Teague & Hinds, Varsity Sport Shop, Ivy Inn, Grover's All-Stars and Nassau-Conover Motors.

League games will be played Monday and Wednesday evenings at Community Park with a 6:30 starting time. In addition, each team will play one Sunday doubleheader at 1:30. They are scheduled to offer increased league exposure to spectators.

TOURNAMENT DATES SET

For Summer Tennis. Dates have been selected for the 15th annual Y Tournaments in the Adult Tennis Program: Women's Singles, July 3 to July 11; Men's Singles, July 10 to July 18; Women's Doubles, July 17 to July 25; Men's Doubles, July 24 to August 1; and Mixed Doubles, July 31 to August 8.

Tournaments will begin on Saturdays at 1. Entry fees for all players will again be $1 and one can of new balls.

The tournaments are open to all players in the Princeton area regardless of age. Fees are to be paid at the courts on the day the event starts.

A Men's Handicap Tournament, new to Princeton area players, is also scheduled for this summer. Play in this event will begin on Monday, June 7 at 5:30 at the Community Park Courts. Finals are scheduled for Sunday, June 13.

Entrants must fill out a blank which can be obtained at the University Store, Varsity Sports and Center Sports. Players will receive handicaps of from -30 to plus 15 for each game.

Entries close at 6 on Friday, June 4, and the draw will be posted at Community Park Courts the following Sunday. Entry fee is $1 and one can of new balls. For further information call John Bauman at 924 6927 or Cephas Monnett at 448-0016.

Dr. John Bauman, chairman of the Adult Tennis Program, has appointed the following committees: publicity, Mrs. Leon Lapidus, Mrs. Malcolm Drezner; trophies, Mrs. William Besser; handicap and seeding, Will Robins and Cephas Monnett; women's tournaments, Mrs. Douglas Corlette and Mrs. John White; men's tournaments, John Bauman and Cephas Monnett.

TIGER NINE BEATEN

Badly (9-1) by Rutgers. Some of the stuffing came out of the Princeton baseball team Tuesday when it played its worst game in more than a year. The Tigers were a 9-1 victim of Rutgers, which they had beaten earlier this season and which had to win to come even with the .500 mark at 11-11.

John Rooney hit a leadoff single in the opening inning for the home team, and promptly got picked off first. That set the keynote for considerable inept play by the inconsistent Princetonians, who contributed inadequate pitching, occasional poor fielding and mental lapses to Rutgers' easy triumph.

Bill Coppedge was the starter, worked five innings and left with his team trailing, 3-0. John Kiane, Jim Pestronk and George Cummings all threw in relief without marked success.

The Scarlet sent 11 men to the plate in the sixth, scoring five of them for the biggest inning against the Tigers in more than a year. The defeat lowered Princeton's record to 2-7-1.

St. John's, originally scheduled to come here Friday, was due on Clarke Field Wednesday afternoon to permit the Redmen to participate in weekend playoffs in their league. The Tigers close out their season with a trip to South Orange Thursday to play Seton Hall.

CROSBY 1-0s STEINERT

For First Win. Don Crosby capped two of the five hits given up by Steinert hurler Neil Bowen Tuesday to raise his batting average to an even .400 — best on the Princeton High School nine.

But what must have pleased the junior righthander even more was getting credit for the victory, his first after knocking on the door for more than a year. He gave up only four hits in the fast moving (85 minute) game and was never in danger. The 1-0 win was the Little Tigers' third in a row (when was the last time they did that?), while Steinert fell to 6-6.

The game's only run came in the third when George Boccanfuso doubled, advanced to third on Kent Bain's single and came home on an error by the shortstop. Bain also doubled in the first but died on base.

In the final inning, Crosby fanned Ken Perry leading off but Rick Prioletti beat out a hit to deep short. Then PHS catcher Dave Mansue threw out Prioletti trying to steal. Dave Zapicchi making the tag. Gary Campbell hit a short fly to Greg Kline in center to end it.

FAVORED TEAMS WIN

In Business Softball. The season is just a couple of weeks old, but already most of the games in the Business Softball League appear to be running true to form. Educational Testing, RCA A, Cities Service and McGraw-Hill all won again, giving an early indication of how the races would shape up.

ETS came up with nine runs in the third and eight more in the fifth on the way to a 25-3 triumph over RCA B. Gerry Kramer, Jerry Murphy, Joe Leone and John Barone each collected three hits for the winners.

Bruce Belovin, Bob Wood, John Johnson, Jim Morris, Dick McDougal and Jim Maher all hit home runs as McGraw-Hill cut down Shearer Tree, 27-5.

RCA A was outhit by Firmenich, but made its hits count, and came up with a 17-9 victory. John Meyer contributed a grand slam in the second inning. Cities Service had little trouble disposing of ERC, 16-6, led by Jack Sheldon with four hits, and Bob Lewis and Charles Gandy with three each. All three men had home runs.

PMC spotted IDA 11 runs in the first three innings, but kept within range with some rallies of its own, and finally pulled out a 16-14 victory with four runs in the bottom of the final inning. Bob Gibilisco provided the winning margin with a grand slam in the seventh, his second four hagger of the day. He drove in seven runs in all. Chris Rich and Dave Pincus also homered.

In other action RCA Astro outlasted American Cyanamid, 21-20. Hopewell TV drew a bye in the 13 team league.

STEINERT WINS, 81-45

Over PHS in Track. Some fine individual performances — unfortunately not enough — was all Princeton High School could point to in losing a dual meet Monday to home-team Steinert, 81-45.

Lawrence Parker won the javelin (186-7), Ron Rhodes the long jump (20-8 3/4) and Roland Smith (10::42.6) and freshman Tom Snow (10:46.7) finished one-two in the two mile. Capturing second places for the losers were Billy Evers in the 880, Parker in the 220 and Daryl Boone in the high jump.

Joe Bolster (4:33.7) was edged by the Spartans' Chris Brand (4:32.2) in the mile. "Joe," commented coach Larry Ivan, "looked very good but he looked back twice. Otherwise he would have had it; he's got to break that habit."

ATTENDS CONVENTION

For Nassau Savings. Carl Applegate, secretary and treasurer of Nassau Savings and Loan, was one of more than 1,000 delegates attending the 62d annual New Jersey Savings and Loan convention in Atlantic City last week.

Among the topics discussed were home mortgage financing, accounting and internal control, economic policy and recent Federal Legislation. The convention's theme founded on providing low-cost home mortgage financing, was more homes for more people in the 70s."

LUNCHEON HELD

To Honor John D. Brown. Fifteen years of service by John J. Brown at General Devices were marked at a lunch con held in his honor.

Mr. Brown began his career at General Devices, a manufacturer of telemetering equipment, on May 9, 1956. Now chief electronic technician, he is responsible for liaison between the engineering and manufacturing departments for GDI's solid-state telemetery product line. Speakers at the luncheon were Murray Medvin, general manager at GDI, and Mrs. Ann Harding, President of Local 457 IUE.

Mr. Brown is a graduate of Trenton Tech and attended North Carolina State while serving in the Air Force's ROTC program. He lives at 7 Kilmer Drive, Trenton.

LIMOUSINE SERVICE SET

To Newark Airport. The Salem Transportation Company will begin scheduled airport limousine operation between several points in Trenton, Princeton and New Brunswick on Monday that will connect these communities to Newark Airport.

A spokesman for Salem said that schedules have been prepared to meet the requirements of the greatest number of air travlers. Nine schedules daily are provided, Monday through Friday, with less frequent service on Sunday.

The service has been initiated by Salem as the result of several months study and investigation of public need. It concluded that a dependable service for the air traveler was a necessity to serve residents of these cities.

Newark Airport is being redeveloped and most air travelers are familiar with the construction that is taking place there. Three completely new terminals will be in operation next year.

Salem Transportation, in business for 23 years, provides limousine serivce between John F. Kennedy International Airport and Philadelphia, between JFK and Ft. Dix-McGuire AFB, and also serves areas from New York and Westchester County to Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington.

Reduced rates for wives and children have been initiated by Salem in order to encourage family use of the new limousine service. Reservations are required on all trips to the Newark Airport. See advertisement, this page, for further details.

MERGER ANNOUNCED

Lowemac and Trenton Firm. Dr. B. I. Lowe, President of Lowemac, Inc., a multi-service company located on Route 1, Princeton Service Center, has announced the merger of his firm and Phillips and Godshalk Company, one of Trenton's oldest printing firms, established in 1904.

Joseph C. Farley has been appointed President of Phillips and Godshalk, and Norman A. Phillips, Chairman of the Board .Farley, a resident of Trenton has been in sales and management in the graphics fields for over 30 years, with Hibbert Printing for 17 years and D & W Blueprint for 14 years. Phillips and Godshalk plans expansion of its printing facilities and services within the next few months.

NEW DIRECTORS NAMED

At F. W. Doanelly. Two new directors have been elected by the stockholders of Fred'k W. Donnelly & Son, men's clothiers. Robert C. Dodson, Duplicating Products of Trenton, and Robert S. Harvey, D & M Taxi Company, start as first-term directors. Frederick Donnelly Haulenbeek, newly-elected president of the company, said that Mr. Dodson and Mr. Harvey were elected to the board to achieve greater diversification and as a result of outstanding records of performance in their businesses.

Also elected was W. Harry Bloor, who was first named a director of the Donnelly Co. in 1935. The balance of the board consists of Katherine Donnelly Leslie, Helen Donnelly Hensler, and Mr. Haulenbeek. Mr. Haulenbeek said, "We look forward to working with the new board for advice and council in the establishment of our store as a broadly-based, quality - oriented source for clothing for men, young men and boys of the area".

Mr. Haulenbeek started with the company in 1950, representing the fourth generation of his family to be associated with the store. He was named general-manager in 1956 and vice-president and general-manager in 1962.

Last August, Donnelly's opened its fourth store at Lake Lawrence Plaza, Route 1 in Lawrence Township. Other locations are at 35 East State Street and 956 Parkway Avenue in Trenton, and Highway 35, Sea Girt.

GIRLS SET NEW MARK

At Long Branch Relays. Despite the rain, the Princeton High girls chopped a whopping 38 seconds off the record for the 1 and 7/8th mile medlay relay at the Long Branch Relays Saturday.

Andrew Bowman ran the 220, Frances Walstad the 440, Betty Woodbridge the 880 and Lindsey Blattner the mile in a combined time of 10.05.5. The old record was 10.43.5. For their record breaking performance, the girls and coach Lamont Fletcher carted home a big trophy. The closest team was more than a 100 yards behind at the wire, Fletcher said.

The day before, the team suffered its first dual meet setback of the season when Rancocas Valley (6-0) swept the field events to win, 69½ to 48½. "We got a big surprise," said Fletcher.

In the running events, however, the losers set four PHS records.

Blattner, the team captain, ran the 880 in 2:24.9 lowering the old mark by 10.5 seconds; Woodbridge ran the mile in 5:27.4 clipping almost 10 seconds off her former mark, and Andrea Bowman ran a fine 26.1 in the 220 another new mark. Andrea's sister Lori Bowman, Karen Winn and Karen Herzog then combined to run the 440 relay in 53.5. The old mark was 53.3. Lori was the lone double winner, capturing the 100 in 11.9 and the high jump with a leap of 4'5".

Earlier the girls defeated New Brunswick, 76-21, capturing nine of 10 first places. The victors' lone second place was in the long jump.

Diane Westover won the mile for the first time. Andrea Bowman, Brisbane Kessler and Nadia El Meligi swept the 220 and Woodbridge, Walstad and Winn swept the 440.

GOLF POSTPONED

By Rainy Weekend. Finals in the President's Cup Tournament at Springdale Golf Club were postponed by last weekend's rain.

On Sunday, Kester Pierson defeated Gene Dix 2 and 1 in a semi-final match. Pierson will meet the winner of the match between Jack Sweeney and Ed Conlin.

BOWLING NOTES

Two Rolloffs Ahead. Two leagues have concluded their second halves and will have a rolloff to determine the overall champion.

In the Nassau League, Hinkson's, winner of the second half last week, will face first-half winner Grover Lumber. In the final night of play — needed to win all three games from Tiger Garage to avoid a tie. They got the sweep to finish two points ahead of Tiger, 68-66.

Neither team, perhaps feeling the pressure, could groove the ball, but Tiger fell apart. The best game any Tiger bowler could muster was a 171.

Albert Petrella of Italian-American Sportsmen Club rolled the high single game of 223.

It will be Kingston versus Rocky Hill for the championship of the Tri-County Fire men's League.

Kingston won the second half when it took two of three games from Dutch Neck — thereby avoiding a three and possible four-way tie. No. 3 which ended two points back, finished second in both halves and is an automatic third-place winner. Dutch Neck which ended two points back of No. 3, will have a rolloff with Princeton Junction to determine fourth place.

John Balestrieri of the A League fashioned the high game of the week at the Princeton Recreation Lanes, rolling a 246. Vince Tufano of Griggs Corner and Bob Cifelli of Hesco Electric had 234 and 233. Joe Ruberto rolled a pair, 212-210.

Others in the league, where Hesco (76 points) and Stefanelli (72) are the only two teams in contention, were: Bill Penelli, 220; Mike Hensky, 212; Wilton Rose, 211 and John Baldino, 203.

Scores were down in the Business Women's League which has one week to go. High game was 173 by Beverly Kiss of Nassau Conover.

Evelyn Enedy and Anna Pinelli each had 1175, the latter rolling 59 pins over her average. Sara Rose had 166-163, Betty Watson 166, and Arlene Mershon, 165.

Bucci Builders is on top in the standings with 64 points. Balestrieri, Rocky Hill Inn and Rocky & Sons trail, each two points behind the other.

HAMILTON, SWIFT'S TIED

For Bowling Lead. Spinners has been displaced from the lead in the Princeton Women's Bowling League by Hamilton Supply Company and Swift's Colonial Diner No. 2. Both are tied at 78 points, while Spinners dropped to 74.

Swift's set both the high team game and series of 749 and 2182. Those who engineered it were Pat Brown, 193 (520); Catherine McDonald, 187-170 (520); Jerine Meyer, 180; and Audrey Kazimiro vic, 170. Catherine was well over her average of 121.

Evelyn Sailey and Mary Hurlhurt were high for Hamilton with 201 and 187. Mary Anne Henderson of Cranbury Bank rolled 181 and Sue Goodwin of Spinners had 171. Used Car Mart's Marilyn Silvester and Kitty Thomas had 177 and 170.

Sports Car Club of America drivers call it a champion.
(Typical American understatement.)
In the SCCA National Championships last year, the Mark III Spitfire took first, second and third in its class.
Champion indeed! That's what the English would call a bit of all right.
But we didn't rest on our laurels. We radically reworked the 1970 champion to make it work even better for 1971. On our new Mark IV, we strengthened the engine bearings, designed a new close ratio all-synchro gearbox and modified the suspension for improved balance and road holding.
And while we were doing things for the Inside, Ferrari body designer Michelotti did a lot for the outside.
As far as we can tell, the car is now—to use an American term—'A-OK' by anybody's standards. You try it at your Triumph dealer. The new improved champion for $2,649*.

Obituaries

Dr. Paul R. Coleman-Norton, 73, Associate Professor of Classics, Emeritus at Princeton University, and an authority on Roman Law, died May 9 at Princeton Hospital.

A resident of 81 McCosh Circle, he had been a Princeton faculty member for nearly half a century. He was a native of Reading, Pa.

In addition to his research and teaching duties at Princeton, Professor Coleman-Norton served for many years as Latin Scribe of the University. In that capacity he prepared the letters which Princeton traditionally addresses in Latin to other colleges and universities when new presidents are inaugurated or major anniversaries are celebrated.

He first came to Princeton in the fall of 1915 as a freshman in the class of 1919. He graduated with Phi Beta Kappa honors, and was then a Fellow in Classics here while working toward his M.A. degree. Subsequently a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford, where he received his D.Phil. in 1923, he returned to permanent appointment on the Princeton faculty.

Dr. Coleman Norton served in the U.S. Army in both World Wars I and II. During the latter conflict he was with military intelligence in French North Africa and Italy, and received the Croix de Guerre, Corona d Italia, Bronze Star, Legion of Merit, and the Distinguished Service Medal. As a linguist with a command of Italian, French and German, he read prisoner-of-war mail and interrogated prisoners.

Dr. Coleman-Norton is survived by his widow, the former Lillian May Leinbach.

The funeral was held in Reading.

Mrs. Eileen D. McAvenia, 43, of 17 Fisher Avenue, died May 10 in Princeton Hospital following a brief illness. She was the wife of Robert B. McAvenia.

A native of Brooklyn, N.Y., Mrs. McAvenia lived in Princeton for the past 25 years. She was a member of St. Paul's Church and was active in the PTA and children's affairs at the church.

Also surviving are two daughters, Eileen and Joanne; two sons, Robert and Brian, all at home; her mother, Mrs. Adelia Gilstorf of Brooklyn; a sister, Mrs. Marion O'Neill of Woodside, L.I., and a brother, Edward Gilstorf of Bideford, Me.

Mass of the Resurrection will be celebrated in St. Paul's Church at 9:30 a.m. this Thursday. Interment will be in St. Paul's Cemetery.

Timothy VanArsdale, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond VanArsdale of 9 Blackwell Avenue, Hopewell, died May 5 in Princeton Hospital of a brain injury suffered when his bicycle and a car collided April 30.

A member of the fourth grade at Hopewell Elementary School, he played in the Hopewell Township Little League and was a member of the Sons of the American Legion. In 1967, he underwent an open heart surgery in Houston, Texas, performed by Dr. Michael DeBakey.

Besides his parents, he is survived by two brothers, Raymond Jr. and Keith L., both at home; his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Julia Van Arsdale and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Walter Lewis, both of Hopewell.

The service was held in St. Alphonse's Church, with interment in Highland Cemetery. Gifts may be sent to the memorial fund of the Hopewell Township Little League.

John Toth, 96, of Rocky Hill, died May 11 at the home of his son, George W. Toth, 50 Crescent Avenue, with whom he lived.

A native of Hungary, Mr. Toth came to this country in 1903 and had lived in Rocky Hill for nearly half a century. Proprietor of the Rocky Hill Inn for 40 years, before his retirement, he had also operated butcher shops in Rocky Hill and in Cranbury. He was the founder of the St. Nicholas Church in Trenton in 1917, serving also as its treasurer and a trustee.

Husband of the late Mary C. Toth, he is survived by two sons, Joseph M. of Trenton, in addition to George W.; two daughters, Mrs. Louis Dohos of Roebling and Mrs. James O'Malley of Rocky Hill; six grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

A private funeral service in Trenton Thursday morning will be followed at 9:30 by requiem mass at St. Nicholas Church, Hudson and Adeline Streets. Burial will be in the parish cemetery.

Mrs. Barbara Bilecki, 76, of 162 Pennington Road, Hopewell, died May 7 at her home. She was the wife of Peter Bilecki.

Born in the Ukraine, Mrs. Bilecki lived in the United States for the past 59 years and was a former Trenton resident.

Also surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Barbara Ann King, with whom she resided; four grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

The service was held at the Koschek Funeral Home, Trenton, with the Rev. Bruce Pullen of Calvary Baptist Church, Hopewell officiating. Interment was in Riverview Cemetery, Trenton. Memorial gifts may be made to the American Cancer Society.

Louis H. Sibrava, 88, of Dutchtown Zion Road, Skillman, died May 6 in Princeton Hospital.

A retired farmer, he was born in Czechoslovakia and lived here for 50 years.

Surviving are three sons, Charles J. and George at home and Frank L. of Edison; a daughter, Mrs. Louise C. Kuehnell of Newark, Del.; five grandchildren, five great-grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Mary Chlanda of Bound Brook and a brother, Antoine, of Winter Park, Fla.

The service was held at the Cromwell Memorial Home, with interment in Highland Cemetery.

Raymond W. Hunt, 60, died May 10 at his home on the Pennington - Titusville Road, Pennington. He was a cabinet-maker.

A native of Titusville, Mr. Hunt lived in the area all of

247 Nassau St., Princeton, N.J. 609-924-3822

PERFECT DESIGN FOR RETIREMENT LIVING. This newly listed West side ranch house combines a far-out (country, that is) air with a close-in convenience. Actually, walking to town is quite feasible for conditioned takers. 5 rooms, including good-sized living room, den and 2 bedrooms, plus 1½ baths, provide an appealing amount of living space for a small family of any age. For summer comfort a screened porch overlooks the particularly pretty, partially wooded, quite secluded grounds which, along with the house, require a minimum of maintenance.
$45,000

TWO LINE TEASERS

Investment property Princeton Township. Three apartment house located in commercial zone. $29,900

An enchanting cottage. One of Princeton's most appealing small homes. Grounds to match! $47,500

Well-planned, solidly built, beautifully planted 4 bedroom, 2½ bath Twp. two-story. Many extras. $67,500

A peaceful Western Borough byway; a pleasant 4 bedroom, 2½ bath home; a sound combination $69,500

Particularly livable brick & frame home. 9 very attractive rooms, handsome fenced terrace, pool. $75,000

Brick Georgian town house. Needs love and sprucing up to be a real gem. Secluded fenced garden. $150,000

Handsome town estate on 3 lovely acres. Tennis, squash courts, pool. Lovely interior. Outstanding!

TWO SPECIALS in the SEVENTIES. Some large and active family which is hunting for a nifty new home is about to be lucky. In fact, there can be two fortunate families, since we have at the moment two most suitable houses. Both are 5 bedroom, 3½ bath Colonials with gorgeous family rooms, off-the-beaten-track Township locations and conditions that belie the existence of children within their pristine walls! There the similarity ends. Each has details and appeal of its own. The choice is yours; you can't go wrong with either one of them.

Our cooperative listing service offers a wide variety of Princeton area properties & prices.

American Primitive — in the style of Appalachia big kitchen fireplace, hand planed wide boards on floors and ceilings, interesting porches and 2 stairways in the 4 room house would be a great guest house when you convert the large hand hewn pegged beam barn into a grand house. The several sound outbuildings would make great studio space.

Back on a stone road near the lovely Wiche-cheoke Creek in some of Hunterdon County's most beautiful countryside, it all needs a LOT of work but the potential is tremendous for making this a truly distinctive restoration.

Princeton Home Inspection Service

If you wouldn't buy a car on just the assurance of the salesman and a State Motor Vehicle Inspection, why do the same for a house? We provide a trained engineer to inspect your future home. He will give you a written report on necessary repairs along with a cost estimate of those repairs. In many cases the owner will be willing to correct these conditions, if called to his attention in time.

We offer many services for the home buyer or attorney on homes, apartments, commercial buildings and land. Write or call for information.

Save this coupon for a free soil analysis of your lawn with a home inspection.

A COMMANDING LOCATION TO OFFLIGHT THE SOUL! A SMALL RUSTIC LIKE SETTLEMENT OF 3 HOUSES PLACED AMONG THE TREES AT THE TOP OF A HILL. THERE IS A VIEW FOR MILES OF SOME OF THE PRETTIEST TERRITORY IN THE NATION! The approach is almost ½ mile long up a slope to the homes on the crest. The main house has 5 bedrooms, 3 baths, a big fireplace in the living room, a brick fireplace in the den, and large windows revealing miles of beautiful scenery. There is a large swimming pool perched on the slope overlooking the countryside. The smaller houses are 4 rooms each, with a fireplace in the living room of each house. The 45 acres of hilltop land is half open and half forest. The place is a natural for horses. It now has a small stable with 2 friendly quadrapods.

The man who worked to complete this outpost of nice living has passed on. His dream was just a few small touches from completion. The family plans to move and the place is to be let go. This is a rare spot in the experience of this broker, which goes back over 41 years, a place like this seldom comes on the market. The asking price is $130,000 with some adjustments on this figure contemplated for uncompleted items which are negotiable. A time grace of 2 days is asked by this office for making appointments.

PRETTY IS AS PRETTY DOES

And this classic older colonial can certainly do some pretty nice things for your family. Right off the bat, it will establish a home base in the heart of Princeton's fabled Western Section (both convenient and stylish). Its tiny garden will whisk Dad from behind the mower and put him on the emerald fairways of the Springdale Golf Course just across the street. Meanwhile the big family-playroom will lure the children out from under foot so that you can use the elegant living & dining rooms to entertain in a civilized fashion. Other points to mention: Room for your piano, & rooms for all the family (6 bedrooms & 3 baths). A good buy these days at $99.500

PEEK OVER YOUR JULEP CUP

and you'll be entranced by the view from the stone walled terrace of this engaging country house just West of town. Three acres of the foreground are yours, complete with daffodil strewn meadow, woods and brook. Inside a stunning entrance hall and living room with fireplace. Dining room, sitting room, kitchen & lavatory. 3 twin bedrooms and 2 baths upstairs. Altogether a charming spot for a small family $75.000

LET THE SUNSHINE IN

Everything is immaculate in this Princeton Ranch. Living room (24'x14') with handsome fireplace and lovely bow window that makes the room even more gracious. A separate dining room with door to porch; the kitchen is so pleasant and comfortable it's just a nice place to sit. Three bedrooms. 2 baths and a basement that is enormous and partially finished for a playroom. Well planted with many trees. This is well built (plaster walls) and extremely attractive offering at $47.000

NEW LISTING

In the Boro on a pleasant side street, we offer a free-and-easy type living. All on one floor, the house has living room with fireplace, separate dining room, and a nice big modern kitchen with adjoining laundry. The three bedrooms are all double size and the master is big with both tub and shower. Another bathroom freshly papered in gay colors. Nicely landscaped property, a skip to the Riverside School $50.000

HURRIED, HARRIED HOUSEWIVES

A spacious, gracious house in perfect condition. The school bus for the kids stops in front of the house, the shopping center is around the corner, and hubby has an easy drive to the station or work. Living room with fireplace, formal dining room, cheerful eat-in kitchen with all modern conveniences, family room plus your favorite "mess" room where you can close the door and get away from it all. Four bedrooms, 2½ bathrooms, two car attached garaga $52.500

WHO COULD ASK

FOR ANYTHING MORE?

Than absolute perfection in a William Thompson designed Colonial on one of the most beautiful pieces of ground in Princeton Township? Here is a unique opportunity to have a superb house in better than new condition for less than its reproduction cost. From its exciting setting, high on a wooded bluff overlooking Stony Brook to its sumptuous interiors, it is the best house of its kind that we've seen in years. The stone floored entrance hall is flanked by elegant formal living (with fireplace) and dining rooms, lushly carpeted in a soft green with valances and draperies to match. There's a cozy study with high beamed ceiling and an open hearth, a paneled family room for the children, a super deluxe, fully equipped kitchen with spacious breakfast area and bar, maid's room (now presently equipped with built in desks as a study for two boys), full bath, powder room and laundry, all on the ground floor. Upstairs, there's a master suite of bedroom, dressing room and bath, plus 5 other bedrooms and 2 more baths. Loads of storage space in basement, attic and garage. Central air conditioning. And to top it all off, a 30' screened porch opening off living and family rooms and overlooking the brook. $155,000
